Truman Says He Will Keep Vaughan as Military Aide

McCarthy Declares President Puts Sanction on His Deals

Washington, Sept. 1 (AP)—President Truman said today he will keep Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan as his army aide.

That was just about all the comment Mr. Truman would make at a news conference about the Senate investigation of Vaughan's activities.

To other questions, Mr. Truman said the hearing was held on Capitol Hill, and that it would not be continued up here (meaning the White House).

A reporter asked whether he thought Vaughan had not a "fair deal" from the committee.

Mr. Truman declined comment. Although the committee has dismissed Vaughan as a witness, Senator McCarthy (R.-Wis.) said it is "just getting started" in its inquiry about him.

Equal to Endorsement

McCarthy, talking with reporters in advance of the President's news conference, also said that for Mr. Truman to keep Vaughan as his military aide would amount to endorsing not only the "New Deal" and the "Old Deal" but also "all of Harry Vaughan's deals."

Vaughan himself has indicated that one former White House figure—John Marston—won't be seen around there in the future. Vaughan said yesterday that Marston needs to be "washed up, fumigated."

A reporter told Mr. Truman that Vaughan had said Marston was his "lovable" friend, but ought to be "fumigated" before he re-enters the White House.

The reporter wanted to know what the President thought about that.

It was then that Mr. Truman asserted that the committee hearing was being held at the Capitol and it would not be continued at the White House.

The word that Vaughan would stay on as the President's aide came when a reporter asked Mr. Truman if he contemplated any change in army aides.

The President said: "I do not."

Vaughan, in a ribboned summer uniform, was standing behind the President at the meeting with reporters.

One question put to Mr. Truman was whether he had turned Marston from the White House.

Proper to "peddle" the President replied to it by again saying that the hearings were being held at the Capitol.

McCarthy told reporters at the Capitol after the news conference that Mr. Truman, in retaining Vaughan, is saying in effect that it is "proper" for Vaughan to "peddle influence."

Furthermore, he said, the retention of not only encourages other government employees to follow Vaughan's example, "but says to them that what Vaughan has done is proper—go now and do likewise."

"I just think it is inexcusable," the Wisconsin senator declared, adding that it should create a "big market for deep freezers."

McCarthy's reference was to the committee's disclosure that officials of the Albery J. Verley Co., a Chicago firm, gave Vaughan seven home freezers for himself and friends in 1945. One of the freezers was turned over to Mrs. Truman for the Little White House in Independence, Mo.

With Vaughan's help, the Verley officials had got transportation to Europe on Army Air Transport planes on perfume business shortly after V-E Day.

Vaughan confessed the freezers were gifts from friends and not related to any aid he gave them on the trip.

Like McCarthy, Senator Mundt (R.-S.D.) indicated he might want to hear more from Vaughan. And while Chairman Hoyer (D.-N.C.) said the Senate investigations Subcommittee had investigated "about everything that we had any basis for" concerning Vaughan's activities, he added:

But of course other things might develop."

Hoyer did not elaborate. But he disclosed earlier in the week that

Drive With Care—Save a Life

The automobile is America's leading means of pleasure—and one of its worst death-dealing instruments.

Many a home has been as grief-stricken over an auto as over bullets or bombs designed to snuff out the lives of its young men.

Whenever you sit behind the wheel of a car, remember this: You are in a position that calls for utmost caution. That ride can be a pleasurable experience, or it can turn into a terrible tragedy with life itself involved.

Remember the safety slogan: Save a Life, It May Be Your Own.

Of course, accidents are not always the fault of drivers, but be on the alert anyhow.

Children at play scamper into the streets without looking. They are young and heedless. They see no danger.

Parents, although they may try to keep tabs on their youngsters, can't have them under their vigilance all the time. But, they should keep warning the youngsters about traffic hazards and dangers.

For those who are inclined to let their little ones shift for themselves during these vacation days, there is a warning in the mounting death toll over the nation. Know where your child is. Protect that little future citizen of America from becoming a victim of the highway.

To drivers: Always remember your responsibility. You are handling what can be either a vehicle of pleasure or a weapon as deadly as any war machine.

There's another slogan: If You Drink, Don't Drive. Alcohol and gasoline don't mix. This is important not only to drivers, but to those who are in the liquor industry. Don't let that drunk get behind the wheel. Today's heavy traffic is such that even a sober man has to be doubly alert while driving.

The problem of saving lives is one that concerns all—parents, children and drivers. Unless everybody is conscious of this, lives will be snuffed out needlessly and sadness clutch many families.

Think of the fathers who have left a wife and a brood of little ones to mourn their death in an auto accident. The nation is full of these cases, and Ulster County has its share in the total.

And, as school approaches, the streets will be traversed by children going and returning from their classes. This is the time when double caution must prevail.

All you children, adult pedestrians and drivers join the parade to prevent death by automobiles. It will pay off in the saving of lives.

New York, Sept. 1 (AP)—For the first time in its history, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is laying plans for a special fund-raising drive.

The drive is made necessary, President Basil O'Connor said yesterday, because of the extent of this year's polio incidence.

The Foundation, he said, has spent $7,078,800 on new cases this year, and a remaining fund of $3,000,000 will probably be used up by November.

The 11-year-old Foundation until now has conducted one campaign a year.

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Sept. 1 (AP)—Yugoslavia charged the Russian News Agency, Tass, today with spreading "made-up" reports in order to build up pressure against Marshal Tito's government.

The Ministry of Information charge came after days of rumors about Russian troops concentrations on Yugoslavia's borders, reports of massing of Yugoslav troops in border areas and stories of sabotage inside Yugoslavia.

The official organ of the Yugoslav government returned to the vocal battle with Russia today, saying the Kremlin was trying to force Yugoslavia "into an unequal and subordinated position."

The statement was made in an editorial in the Communist newspaper Borba. The Ministry of Information released the editorial before publication.

Borba listed charges against Russia and her satellites in the war of nerves, including an economic blockade against Yugoslavia, provocation of border incidents, sending spies into the country and threats against the Tito regime.

The Yugoslav remarks about Tass stemmed specifically from a report that the city of Fiume was in a state of siege because of sabotage. The Ministry of Information commented:

"It is officially announced that this news is completely made up. It is obvious that Tass is spreading such made-up news in the framework of the anti-Yugoslav government campaign and pressure upon this country."

Borba listed confirmed there had been a small fire in the large oil refinery at Fiume but denied published reports the plant was sabotaged.

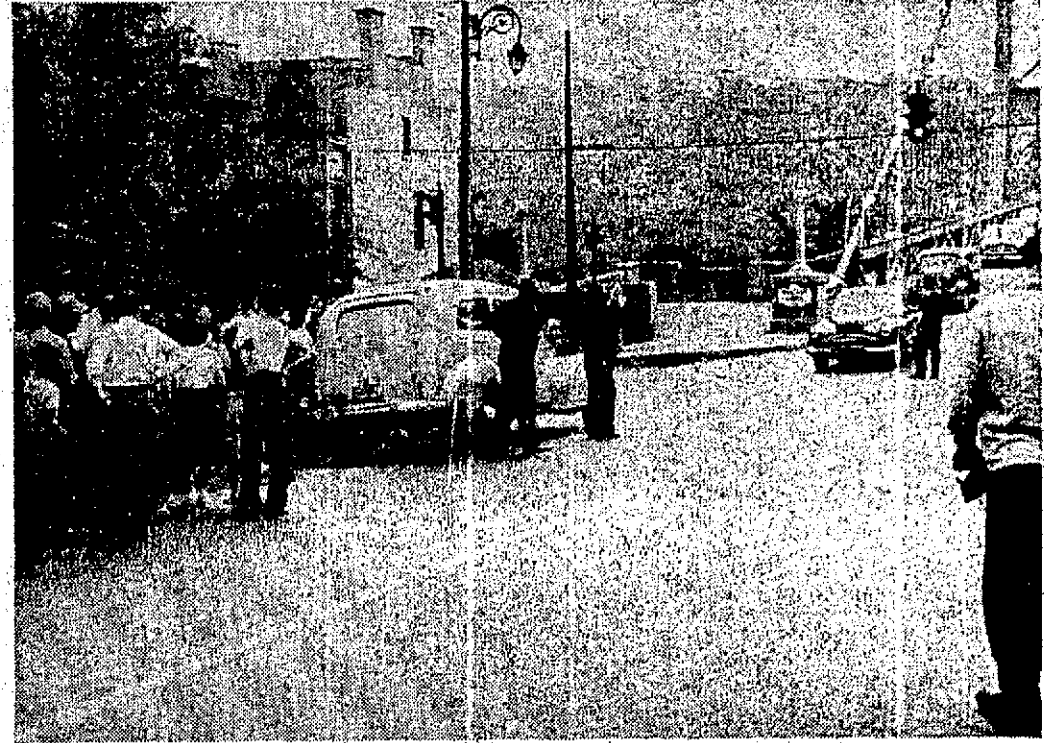

The Ministry of Information also denied stories of troop concentrations in Macedonia and said the stories had been published by "the Associated Press and some Italian papers."

(The A.P. report to which the statement apparently referred was a dispatch from Istanbul, Turkey, Aug. 28, quoting "top-ranking diplomatic and intelligence sources.")

Yugoslavia meanwhile seemed unperturbed, despite the welter of rumors about possible forceful action against Tito by his former partners in the Cominform (Communist Information Bureau).

Legion Would Curtail Further Immigration

Making Attempt To Identify Bugs Invading Kingston

Complaints in 9th Ward
First About Insects; Laboratory Contact Is Made by Mayor

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk today was attempting to determine the nature and type of an insect currently invading various sections of the city.

Ninth Ward Alderman Paul J. Schatzel, brought the unusual invasion to light following discovery and complaints yesterday of swarms of the insect in the Summer street area.

It was reported also in the Henry street area and today it was learned that masses of the unfamiliar insect had reached the Clifton avenue sector and other areas.

Mayor Newkirk sent one to a laboratory in New Jersey for analysis to determine its type and also to learn the proper means of extermination.

It is believed generally, and before laboratory confirmation, that the bug is a type of cricket, but some of those who saw it today also thought it might be of the grasshopper family.

Alderman Schatzel said he had received complaints in his ward that many of the insects were getting in homes, and it was thought first that the invasion was from the Sterling street dump, but the reports from other areas contradicted this belief.

Alderman Schatzel brought a

Veterans Want to Keep U. S. From Burden; Ask Study of 5th Column

Philadelphia, Sept. 1 (AP)—The American Legion's 31st national convention demanded today that the United States "curtail as far as possible any further immigration" at this time.

The Legion view was expressed in a resolution adopted shortly before the Legionnaires were to begin balloting to choose a new national commander, major item at the final session of the four-day convention.

The federal government should "strictly adhere to the existing laws and quotas allowing immigration to the United States," the resolution said.

"Particularly, the U. S. should adhere to the laws now in force applying to displaced persons rather than place additional burden on the people of America."

The Legion's Americanism Committee also won convention backing of a resolution under which area seminars would be set up at Birmingham, Ala., Indianapolis, Ind., New York and San Francisco to study Russian fifth column activities.

Another provision asked that applicants for U. S. citizenship be required to swear to bear arms for the U. S., whenever the necessity arises.

The convention approved a resolution backing a self-help plan "based on the initiative of the people in their own communities without reliance of the Federal government in solving unemployment problems."

Under the proposal, town and city councils would confer with

Child Carried for Some Distance After Being Struck by Fender on Right of Vehicle

Death Accidental

Fatality Ulster County's 27th Due to Traffic Mishaps

Muriel Bush, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bush, 88 Abert street, was killed Wednesday at the entrance to the Rondout Creek bridge when she was struck by a bus operated by the Rev. Brother G. P. Lyons, 37, of Iona College, New Rochelle.

The death is the 27th in the county to date this year as the result of motor vehicle mishaps and Coroner Ernest A. Kelly said the fatality was accidental.

An autopsy was performed, the coroner said, and the cause of death was given as "Massive hemorrhage with aspiration of blood and spinal fluid due to transverse fracture through the base of the skull."

Police were notified at 2:08 p. m., that the child had been struck by the bus which was transporting 23 young men from St. Joseph's School at West Park to the 9-W Roller Rink, Saugerties road near Schoenck's.

Officers Walter Fitzgerald and Henry Ronnenberg were dispatched on the first call and later Police Chief Raymond Van Buren, Officers Gurney Burger, Jr., James Burns, Kenneth Stratton, and Detectives Clarence Erophy and William Krum were at the scene.

Line of Cars

Officer Burger reported that the bus was headed north and coming off the bridge and a line of cars was headed south over the route when the "girl stopped off the curb on the south side of Abert street nearest the bridge."

The child was running in an easterly direction, the report said, and came in contact with the right front fender of the bus just before she "was able to reach the sidewalk."

The child was carried "well beyond the cross walk" after she was struck, police said.

The bus is owned by Cardinal Farley Military Academy of Rhinebeck, and riding in its front section were the Rev. Brother F. J. Lopez, Bernard Kane and John McFarland, all of St. Joseph's School.

The police listed the above and Capt. Joseph Hallinan, Firemen Clarence Maines, Clarence Barber, of Cornell Fire station, as witnesses.

Measurements were taken at the scene by Police Chief Van Buren and Detective Erophy, and pictures were taken by Jailer Arthur Brown of the sheriff's office.

Father Was Victim

The child's father, Alfred Bush, 41, is not fully recovered from injuries suffered last June 6, when an auto he was driving and one operated by the Rev. Joseph McIntyre, 47, of St. Peter's Church, Kingston, were in collision on the other side of the Rondout creek bridge.

The Bush family then lived in Sleightsburg and moved to the city some time after the accident.

A member of the family said the girl was on her way to Cornell Park with her older sister, Patricia Ann, and another child, when she was struck by the bus. It was also said, that the child had had a fever of crossing the street.

The funeral will be held from the home at 8:30 a. m., and at St. Mary's Church at 9 a. m., where a Mass of the Angels will be offered. Muriel will be in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Girl, 3, Is Polio Victim, Case 34th in County

The 34th case of polio was reported today by the county health department.

The latest victim is a three-year-old girl resident of the county, and the case was the first reported here in several days.

Favorable reports were given on two victims of the disease at Kingston Hospital and the 34-year-old man at the Benedictine Hospital.

Woodstock, Aug. 31—Miss Mae Baumann, Bearsville, was awarded two theatre tickets for "Arms and The Man" by George Bernard Shaw which is being presented at the Woodstock Playhouse this week. A contest was sponsored by the theatre last week. The winner was selected for the best comments pertaining to why the theatre-goer would like to see this week's presentation.

Percy Short Gets Pumping Contract

Woodstock, Sept. 1—The Town Board accepted at a regular meeting Tuesday evening, the bid made by Percy Short, Wittenberg, in the amount of $8,595 for furnishing materials, equipment and constructing a pumping station building and valve chamber in accordance with specifications recommended by the town engineer, F. J. Keis, and for use by the Woodstock Water District. The pumping station will be built over a well and will be of concrete block with a brick facing. A concrete well chamber with a fence around it is also included in the bid accepted.

Resolutions were also unanimously accepted by members of the board in acknowledging the conveyance of certain lands donated by Victor H. and Eleanor R. Cannon for use by the Town of Woodstock. The parcels so donated include a parcel located on the Rock City road to be used by the Woodstock Water District for the erection of a water tank thereon and the historically famous California Quarries which are said to contain huge quantities of crushed stone, which will be of great value to the township.

In its resolutions the board "expressed its heartfelt thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Cannon for their generous gifts."

Present at the meeting were Supervisor Kenneth L. Wilson, Justices of the Peace George J. Braendly and Joseph Fitzsimmons, Councilman Joseph Forno, Town Clerk Grant Egan and John E. Egan, town attorney.

Traffic Violations

Woodstock, Sept. 1—Some 15 arrests were made last week-end by state troopers Ray Dunn, R. J. Nicodemus and Nevis and town policeman George Reynolds for traffic violations in the town of Woodstock. At hearings before Justice of the Peace George J. Braendly, fines were paid ranging from $3 to $10.

SIMPLICITY OF YESTERYEAR LOST

If you have any lingering doubts that simplicity has vanished from present-day living, note well the saga of the little yellow dream cottage in New York City.

Many months ago this small model house was put up on a parking lot in midtown Manhattan. It was raffled off in a fund-raising campaign for Israel. The winner got another house and the model was used for another drive by the American Women's Voluntary Services.

Alfred Birnbaum, a young Columbia University student of optometry, was among those who paid 50 cents for a chance on the house. Probably he promptly forgot about it. Then one morning his wife was awakened at 2 a. m. to learn the happy news over the telephone: the $15,000 dream house was theirs.

What could be more wonderful? Just think of it, you pay 50 cents casually on a raffle ticket, go on about your business and wake up to find that tiny investment has brought you the little cottage you've been dreaming of. Ah, this America, what a country!

But when the rosy glow of good fortune had dimmed a little, a few hard realities began to show through.

The man who owned the parking lot where the dream house stood wanted the cottage off his property as quickly as possible. Meantime he would charge the Birnbaums $50 a day rental.

They scouted around and discovered it would cost $1000 to dismantle the house, maybe another $300 to cart it away and $4,500 to put it up again. They couldn't afford any of this expense and had no place to erect the house.

Then Birnbaum learned that his $15,000 windfall would thrust him into an uncomfortably high income tax bracket. He had no wish to sample that rarefied atmosphere.

After days of contemplating this catalog of woes, what he did wish was that he could get his 50 cents back and get the little yellow dream house out of his life forever.

But even that was easier said than done. The place began to haunt him. He begged his brother, a lawyer, to find a solution.

Finally a savior turned up. He owned a lot, could pay dismantling, moving and erecting expenses and was willing to give Birnbaum the remarkable sum of $1200 for his $15,000 catch. Birnbaum snapped up the deal as if it were the greatest he would ever make in a lifetime.

Now at last he is happily free of his dream cottage. The walk-up flat in uptown Manhattan where the Birnbaums live will never be the subject of a raffle. But on the other hand, nobody is going to order them to get the place out of town by the first of the month.

And as he relaxes in that drab but secure setting, Birnbaum is probably figuring that the next time somebody waves a raffle ticket in his face he'll make the 50 cents an out-right gift.

EYE FOR BUSINESS

A village magistrate once was taken to task by the governing council for his persistent leniency in levying small fines against repeated disturbers of the peace, who were brought before him at regular intervals. His reply was: "But if I charge them more, they won't come back." He had an eye for business.

A similar philosophy must govern the official attitude toward many kinds of traffic law violators. Scarcely a day goes by without including in its record of events some traffic accident resulting in injuries or deaths. And scarcely a day goes by without notation of some driver being assessed a trivial fine, or given a suspended penalty, for one of the many infractions of traffic law which are regarded as minor, to be overlooked, unless the violator has actually caused trouble. Is it possible that there is some connection between the record of traffic accidents and the record of prosecution of traffic law?

Breaches of traffic law are not petty mat-

FREEDOM FROM DISMISSAL

Clifford Durr, formerly of the Federal Communications Commission, showed up as lawyer for Mr. Philip O. Keeney before the House Committee on Un-American Activities. Mr. Keeney refused to answer most important questions on the grounds that to answer would incriminate and degrade him. The word "degrade" seems to have startled the committee. Why is it degrading to admit to being a Communist? Mr. Keeney's reply to questions concerning the word "degrade" was: "I simply think that it would tend to degrade me."

Mr. Durr was then invited by Chairman Wood of the committee to explain why his client, believed that to reply to the question, "are you or have you been a member of the Communist party?" would degrade him. Durr's explanation is interesting: "I think, under conditions existing today, membership in the Communist party would result in a man for all practical purposes being proscribed from employment, certainly in obtaining the type of employment for which Mr. Keeney is qualified. And the inability to earn a livelihood is a penalty which can, in practical effect, be just as severe, if not more severe, than actual imprisonment in a criminal case."

Mr. Wood: Do you mean to say, then, it is your opinion and you are so advising your client that he can cloak himself behind that sort of excuse to refuse to answer a question, when it does not amount to a question of criminal penalty being invoked against him?

Mr. Durr: Well, I except to the term 'cloaking himself.' I think that if the safeguards of the Fifth Amendment are to mean anything in this day and time, they must protect a man from punishment when he is required to incriminate himself.

Mr. Wood: Punishment short of criminal offense?

Mr. Durr: I think we have no Supreme Court decision on that issue yet clearly in point. I think the Supreme Court did get very close to it in the case of the United States v. Lovett, Watson and Dodd, in which the court said that a proscription of an individual from government employment was punishment in the broad sense of the term. It had to reach the conclusion that this punishment in order to find as they did in that case that a rider attached to an appropriation bill barring certain individuals from government employment was a bill of attainder.

The court further said in that case that punishment, even that type of punishment, could be inflicted only by the courts after a trial conducted in accordance with all of the safeguards guaranteed by the constitution.

Mr. Wood: The circumstances surrounding that case were entirely different from the issue here, as you are well aware.

Mr. Durr: I am not sure they are.

Mr. Wood: Well, it is upon that theory now that you are advising your client not to answer this question?

Mr. Durr: Yes, I am advising him on both the ground that it would tend to incriminate him and that it would tend to degrade him, in that the consequences would be very severe in the way of employment opportunities and his ability to earn a livelihood.

This is an extremely important colloquy with far-reaching consequences, if it should be allowed to stand. It is surprising that those who reported the hearing missed it. For under Durr's conception, the government of the United States can never fire a Communist, a suspected spy, a disloyal person lest that person never be able to get another job. It would be necessary in each instance to go through the expense of an Alger Hiss or a Judith Coplon trial.

There is ample evidence that the payroll of the United States was loaded with Communists and their sympathizers, some of whom acted as spies, couriers and agents for Soviet Russia. None of these persons may, according to Mr. Durr, be dismissed from their jobs, lest such dismissal degrade them and make it impossible to get another job. They have to be kept on. It is permissible to fire a Republican or a Democrat or even a Dixiecrat because there is nothing degrading about being one of them.

It is a new gimmick and should be challenged fast—and in the courts.

REMOVAL OF TONSILS AT POLIO TIME

In 1942, the Journal of the American Medical Association warned that poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis), particularly the bulbar form, greatly increased in children in epidemic areas after removal of tonsils and adenoids. This warning was backed by reports from outstanding physicians, namely Drs. Stillerman, Flischer, Maxwell, Marks, Top, Aycock and Sablin. Because of this warning, avoiding these operations during polio epidemics has been the rule.

A group of nose and throat specialists doubted that there was such a connection between the removal of tonsils and adenoids and this severe type of polio. Their investigator, Dr. D. S. Cunningham, in "Archives of Nose and Throat," reported the following: In 4,231 cases of polio occurring in 25 states during 1947, the number of cases of the bulbar type was 25 per cent in the group who had had tonsils and adenoids removed within the two months before they were attacked, while in the group in which tonsils and adenoids were not removed the percentage of bulbar type cases was only 17 per cent.

The corresponding figure for 1948 showed 29 per cent bulbar type cases in those who had tonsils and adenoids removed and 15.4 per cent in those who had not. Thus the number or percentages of cases of bulbar type was more than twice as great in patients who had tonsils and adenoids removed as in those who had not.

Another investigator, Dr. H. K. Faber, reports in "Pediatrics," his study made in 1943 in the state of Utah. The number of cases of the bulbar type of polio in the general child population was 25 per 100,000 as compared with 404 per 100,000 in children who had recently had tonsils removed. The above information, appearing as an editorial in the "Journal of the American Medical Association," is authoritative proof of the extra danger of having tonsils and adenoids removed near or during polio time.

This does not mean that infected tonsils and adenoids should not be removed at or near polio time if your physician and throat specialist consider it more dangerous not to remove them.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

Washington — President Truman, who has complained repeatedly about lobbying, is due to get a similar complaint against a member of his own official family.

He is John D. Clark, of the White House Council of Economic Advisors.

The former Standard Oil of Indiana official has aroused the ire of a group of anti-monopoly congressmen. They charge he has been quietly lobbying to restore the basing-point price system outlawed by the Supreme Court.

Chief complainants are Reps. Wright Patman, D. Tex., and John Carroll, D. Colo., who were largely instrumental in putting through the House recently the bill barring business mergers. This measure is the most important anti-trust legislation enacted in many years.

Patman and Carroll are taking their lobbying complaint against Clark directly to the President.

Their contention is that it is futile for them to seek to strengthen the government's hand against monopoly when a member of the White House staff is opposing them. They want the President to muzzle Clark.

This position on this issue is curious.

Last summer, he vigorously backed the Federal Trade Commission when a committee headed by Sen. J. Homer Chapin, R. Ind., tried to bring before the agency into approving basing-point legislation. Clark strongly upheld the F.T.C. in its refusal.

Four months later, the Supreme Court ruled against Standard Oil of Indiana in an anti-trust case brought by a group of Michigan small-business men. Following this decision Clark, apparently, reversed his attitude. Since then, he has been quietly pressuring for restoration of the basing-point system.

Native D.P.'s

Senator Pat McCarran, D., Nev., is not only vehemently opposed to foreign D.P.'s, but appears bent on making displaced persons out of a group of native Americans.

That is the charge made against him by the Pyramid Lake Paiute tribe in its home state.

A resolution adopted by the tribal council charges that a bill introduced by McCarran would turn over valuable reservation land to white cattlemen. The Interior Department has denounced the measure, and the Supreme Court has upheld the tribe's claims.

McCarran's bill would circumvent that decision.

Note—Despite his intransigent opposition to liberalizing the obstructive displaced persons law, McCarran sought to obtain special permission to bring in several hundred Basque shepherders for Nevadans.

Intelligence Chief

Alfred McCormack, wartime Pentagon intelligence colonel and New York attorney, has the inside track as now civilian head of the central intelligence agency.

Adm. Roscoe Hillelkoetter, C.I.A. chief, is anxious to hold on to the job and has been doing some wire-pulling for that. But he has a spotty record, and the President wants to try a civilian in this key post. Latest C.I.A. bust was the recent Syrian army coup that deposed the late Marshall Zaim. C.I.A. was caught flatfooted on that.

McCormack was brought into Army G-2 by former Secretary of War Henry Stimson. McCormack had no previous military service, and has been presiding over corporation law since 1945.

Suppressed E.C.A. Report

One of the major differences between the House and Senate on the docketed E.C.A. appropriation bill is continuance of the so-called Marshall Plan watchdog committee. The Senate is insisting on continuing the committee; the House is opposed.

Senate demand for continuance of the committee is based on the contention it is needed to maintain an independent check on E.C.A. operations abroad. But while the Senate has been pressing this argument, the committee has been withholding a highly revealing report on French attitude toward E.C.A.

Reason for the suppression is not clear. The report contains the type of information the committee is supposed to supply Congress. But, whatever the reason, the committee has been sitting on the report for more than two months—while battling with the House for another $500,000 to continue functioning.

Basic theme of the report is that very little effort is being made to inform the French people what the U. S. is doing for them under the Marshall Plan.

As a result of this failure, says the report, "this enormous operation, which is costing the United States so much money, is viewed with hostility. This effort is taken on by the great majority in France to be a middle-class, pre-sumptuous scheme of the United States to use France to our own ends."

The report warns that the Marshall Plan cannot succeed as long as this attitude prevails.

"It is a possibility," says the report, "that this plan will have come and gone, had its short life of four years and cost the U. S. taxpayer perhaps $15,000,000,000, without its real intent being realized in Europe. To the extent that the Marshall Plan fails of achievement of its goals by 1952, America's problem, far from being solved, will have just begun. We will be up against a France which has never understood the Marshall Plan, or that America was in good faith offering to underwrite recovery and the consequent protection against Communism."

The report severely criticizes the French government and French press for not publicizing the work of the Marshall Plan. "They have left the job of explaining American efforts to secure France," the report says, "to the biggest, one of the richest and the most effective publicity organizations in the world, the Communist party. That party has not missed a bet to decide, malign and falsify the Marshall Plan with every segment of the French population. The French administrators of the Marshall Plan have not begun to match these hostile operations."

The report states that leading French newspapers bluntly declare they cannot "afford to be pro-American because it would cost them circulation."

It is probably safe to say, the report says, "that one New York paper has carried more analytical explanation of the Marshall Plan's objectives than all the non-Communist French press combined. The parties in the French coalition will not undertake any international program unless they are convinced that the end outweighs political differences. There are no signs that such a conviction is about to emerge, and the United States as well as France faces the consequences."

Today in Washington

Same Type of Quarrel Could Be Magnified and Become Another War

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 1.—Ten years ago this week the world experienced a sudden outbreak of war. Today the same type of quarrel between a large and small country could be magnified and become a war between Russia and Yugoslavia, and conceivably other nations of Europe could be drawn in.

Yet nobody here expects a war. The surface indications may point to threats of military force by Russia but government officials in the western democracies do not regard the slightest anxiety as to the consequences of the Tito-Stalin rift.

Perhaps the main reason for this feeling of unconcern is the deep conviction that the Soviet Union does not really dare to start a war against Yugoslavia and that whatever military mobilization is going on along the Yugoslav borders, where the Red army is concentrating, results from a calculated publicity move rather than an intent to invade.

The Russian policies, on the other hand, are never explained in advance and the inscrutable Kremlin may be preparing a sudden move to rid itself of a thorn in Belgrade. It certainly would appear that the prestige of the Soviet Union is at stake in the Balkans if it permits Tito's defiance to go un punished. In totalitarian area there are no insurrections or insubordinations without reprisals.

If Russia does not do something to undermine or overthrow Tito, the prestige of the Communists throughout Europe also will suffer. The fear of the Red army will diminish. It will be assumed that Russia is too weak to control her satellite states from either a military or an ideological standpoint.

There could be involved in the Russian maneuvers an attempt to put Tito in a weak position inside his own country. Thus, if the western democracies which have been warning up to the Yugoslav dictator should take into account before the United Nations and if the proposed loan to Tito's government by the World Bank should go through, it will be hailed inside the Communist areas as a sign that Tito has joined forces with the democracies and abandoned his Communist philosophy.

The truth, of course, is that Tito is still a totalitarian and still a Communist but merely does not wish to submit to Stalin's rule. The western allies are not any more particular about this than Winston Churchill was the day he urged Britain to help Stalin when Hitler attacked Russia in 1941. It is sheer expediency now as then.

If the Soviets are trying to divide Yugoslavia by forcing a crisis and yet not taking any overt steps to produce a conflict of arms, their tactics could weaken Tito. There are doubters inside Yugoslavia many Communists who prefer the Stalin viewpoint and there are democratic opponents of Tito who would welcome, again on the basis of expediency, any opportunity to get behind a revolution, believing that conditions of chaos are better than what prevails today.

Meanwhile, the United States and Britain are consulting constantly and it would not be surprising to have units of our countries were ordered to go to the Adriatic to be close at hand in case the interests of American and British citizens become endangered—the customary excuse for getting naval or military forces into a position of watchfulness at the scene of major trouble.

The next move, of course, is for Yugoslavia to appeal to the United Nations. Certainly the mobilization of Soviet troops along the Yugoslav border is a manifestation of coercion and pressure, Yugoslavia is entitled to have the United Nations consider whether her territorial integrity and independence are being threatened. This is a form of counter-propaganda which the Soviets will not enjoy, as it undoubtedly would become a widely discussed issue inside the Balkan countries as well as throughout the rest of the world.

While there may be many who have accepted the Communist line solely as a matter of individual philosophy, there are many more who feel that they must not lose their identity as nationals of their own country. The Tito-Stalin friction could prove to be the beginning of the crumbling of Soviet influence in the Balkans, not immediately but over the next few years. It is therefore of the utmost importance that the United Nations, rather than any single nation, take the initiative in examining the merits of the dispute insofar as the facts of military pressure or potential aggression are concerned.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Aug. 30 — That New York psycho-journalistic monstrosity, P.M., otherwise and more fittingly called P.U., is dead and gone after an evil career promoting the Communist line, but its rock fingers and the harm that it wrought in promoting demagogic hatreds will be a long time healing.

The angel or sucker of this exploit was a fellow of normal outlook who gave evidence of sanity in many things. Marshall Field III came at a disquieting background like Eleanor Roosevelt's and like her seemed to feel shame or guilt and a queer notion to atone by having traffic with enemies of good society.

By an oversight which I cannot explain, our normal journalism, spending vast amounts on news and non-news, has missed an amazing state of affairs concealed behind this manipulation of a rich man with a pliable mind, Bubblehead Marshall Field.

Bubblehead Field fell under the influence of a New York lawyer named Louis Weiss. Weiss had represented the current Mrs. Field in a divorce from her preceding husband, and was dealing with enormously rich people with sufficient sense of the evil power of their money and scant appreciation of their own responsibility for the consequences. Frittered away on yachts, jewels, frivolity and all such standard foibles of the stupid rich, the millions which Field inherited from his grandfather might have done to burn save to himself. But Weiss was a man with a mission and that mission may be surmised from abundant circumstantial evidence.

Weiss is a brother of Carol Weiss King, a lawyer who has specialized in Communist cases.

EAT WELL for Less

UTILIZE SEPTEMBER'S ABUNDANCE

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Foods to be in greatest abundance during September are pears, onions and hens. That's what marketing specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture expect.

Apples and fresh pears are expected to be in good supply too, along with the pears, they say.

Plentiful vegetables for September include not only onions but also cabbage, tomatoes, Irish potatoes. After the middle of the month, sweet potatoes also will be plentiful.

This September promises to be a big poultry month with markets offering an abundance not only of hens but of broilers, fryers and turkeys also.

Cooking fats for the first time since the war are in such good supply that they rate a place on next month's plentiful food list.

Other items which will continue in abundance next month and continue to be good buys are, fish, fresh and frozen, peanut butter, and such processed dairy products as cheese, evaporated milk, dry skim milk (non-fat dry milk solids) and butter.

The trick, of course, is to use foods from the plentiful list as often as possible—cuts costs. Here are a few menus using plentiful.

(Dishes in bold type contain September plentiful.)
Luncheon: Tomato soup, spaghetti with cheese, bread, butter or fortified margarine, fruit cup, tea, milk.

Dinner: Panned liver with onions, mashed potatoes, stewed tomatoes and celery, cold slaw, bread butter, or fortified margarine, quick coffee cake, coffee, milk.

Luncheon: Cold quick tomato soup, cottage cheese and pineapple sandwiches, cookies, tea, milk.

Dinner: Corned beef hash with fluffy eggs, buttered beets, steamed cabbage quarters, carrot sticks, bread, butter or fortified margarine, top stove custard, coffee, milk.

Luncheon: Egg salad, hot rolls, butter or fortified margarine, gelatin dessert, tea, milk.

Dinner: Cheese tomato tarts, steamed squash, Dutch potato salad, bread, butter, or fortified margarine, raisin cup cakes, coffee, milk.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Baked apples, ready-to-eat cereal, quick coffee cake, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Malted cheese sandwiches, cold slaw, stewed fresh pears, tea, milk.

DINNER: Fried chicken, cream gravy, mashed potatoes, broiled tomato halves, mixed green salad, fruit bowl (pears and apples), cheese, coffee, milk.

Brazil's area exceeds that of the continental United States by about 250,000 square miles.

phia and was vice-president of the advertising firm of Hewett, Ollivie, Benson and Mather. Surviving are his wife and two small children.

Shaw Comedy Is Closing Show, Well Done at Playhouse

Woodstock, Sept. 1.—A discriminating audience showed its appreciation for an excellent play, well done, by recalling members of the small cast for innumerable bows Tuesday evening, when the Woodstock Playhouse presented George Bernard Shaw's comedy, "Arms and the Man" under the direction of Bill Ross, and with charming settings designed by George Corbin. The play continues through Sunday evening. Robert Carroll, whose popularity was unmistakable with Woodstock audiences on the occasion of his first appearance here in "Joy to the World" received a hearty welcome when he appeared

Tuesday evening and gave a splendid performance in the role of Sergius, a dashing, hero officer in the Bulgarian Army and the fiance of the bewitching and attractive Raina which part was delightfully and convincingly portrayed by Patricia Pearson.

A satire on war and soldiers, the play introduces many amusing incidents while unraveling the perplexities which involve the lives and loves of members in the Petkoff household.

The inimitable Kurt Kasnar gave a ludicrous characterization of Major Petkoff. Dependable as ever was Fay Sappington in her role of Catherine, the scheming and assured wife of Major Petkoff. Randolph Echols was particularly well suited to the part of the Swiss soldier, Bluntschli, and did a commendable job. Jane Lloyd-Jones was an impetuous and assured Louka, the Petkoff's maid who has aspirations for an easier life and brooks no interference in achieving her goal, while Michael Linenthal was amusing in his role of Nicola, the family retainer. Paul Kerkowsky impersonated a Russian officer.

The Woodstock Playhouse will bring its season to a close next Sunday evening, September 4, when the final curtain drops on one of the finest productions this year, "Arms and the Man."

Browder Writings Topped Lenin's by 50-1 Figure

New York, Sept. 1 (AP)—Before he was deposed as head of the U. S. Communist party, Earl Browder's writings were 50-to-1 favorites over Nicolai Lenin's, the government contended yesterday at the Red conspiracy trial.

Figures on comparative sales were brought out in an effort to show Communist reading tastes before and after 1945—when Browder was ousted and the government claims the party started plotting revolution.

The defense-vs.-prosecution discussion of reading matter cropped up during testimony by Carl Winter, one of the 11 defendants at the trial.

The indictment against the 11 charged that since 1945—when the Browder-led Communist Political Association (C.P.A.) folded—the defendants have conspired to advocate violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

Browder in 1944, the government says, was running the C.P.A. on a get-along-with-capitalism basis, and a program of labor-management cooperation.

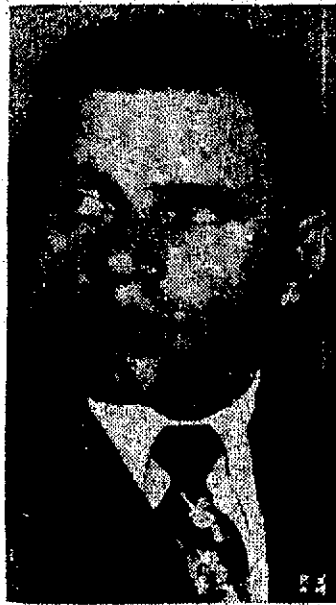

According to prosecution witnesses, Browder's writings were emphasized in those days and the works of Marx and Lenin were taken off Communist club shelves and given little prominence.

The defense claims the Marx-Lenin books are standard works and says they do not necessarily call for overthrow of the government.

DEPORTED

The State Department disclosed August 30 that Anatole P. Barsov (above), Russian air force pilot who twice tried to change sides in the cold war, has been deported and will be given a chance to return to his Soviet homeland. Barsov was one of two Red Army officers who stepped on a Russian Army plane last October 9 at Moscow in the U. S. zone of Austria and announced they wanted to renounce their allegiance to the Soviet Union.

Passerby Laments Razing Of Church for Building

New York, Sept. 1 (AP)—Some sentimental soul in New York city laments the razing of the Church of St. Nicholas.

It is to be torn down to make way for a skyscraper.

The Protestant Dutch Church has nestled amid plushier and taller neighbors for 77 years at Fifth avenue and 48th street, right next door to Rockefeller Center.

A passerby yesterday left a faded rose on the steps before the closed door of St. Nicholas. On the door was pinned a blue card-board note that read in part:

"To you and to me the beloved Church of St. Nicholas silently imparts a last message: Before Him an awful blow is struck."

"The place where you stand is holy ground, every stone and grain of sand is hallowed in His service, hoary with the passing of time."

"Farewell, beloved Church of St. Nicholas."

The note was signed "A Passerby."

Civil Rights to Demand Robeson Riot Punishment

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 1 (AP)—The Albany chapter of the Civil Rights Congress cries to the state capitol today a demand for punishment of those responsible for a riot that prevented a concert by singer Paul Robeson near Peekskill.

A delegation from the chapter was scheduled to confer with Governor Dewey's assistant counsel, Lawrence E. Walsh (3 p. m., E.S.T.).

The conference will be followed by a march on the capitol tonight. A special police detail has been assigned to the grounds.

The Robeson supporters plan to march through the downtown business district to the capitol steps and there receive a report from leaders on the conference with Dewey's aide.

A spokesman said no attempt would be made to enter the building, which closes at 5 p. m. (E.S.T.).

Governor Dewey will not be in the city. He is at his farm near Pawling.

American Legion officials have advised their members to ignore the demonstration.

Mary Philo, a former American Labor party leader, said the Civil Rights delegation would demand that Dewey "punish" instigators of the riot.

The Civil Rights Congress has been listed as subversive by the Department of Justice.

About 50 persons attended a preliminary protest meeting last night. Speakers included Simon Falkoff, Communist party leader in Albany, and Scott Gwy, Albany attorney. The speakers warned against fascism.

Gray said that "New York state is not immune to the things that are happening in the south and spreading fast."

At least eight persons were injured in the fighting between veterans and concert-goers at Peekskill Saturday night. Robeson, Negro baritone, was intercepted by friends before he reached the concert site.

Dewey ordered Westchester county officials to make a complete report.

In the investigation, Westchester District Attorney George M. Fanelli sought to obtain identification of persons involved in the rioting.

He sent news photographs of riot fighting to the New York City Police Department, seeking help in learning the names of persons shown in the pictures.

Meanwhile, several groups voiced new protests against the outbreak of violence.

The American Guild of Musical Artists sent a telegram to Gov. Dewey commending his request for a report of the riot, which it condemned as abridging Robeson's right to give a public performance.

Arthur J. Aronson, state commander of the Jewish War Veterans, last night named a nine-man board of inquiry to report on participation of J.W.V. members in the anti-Robeson demonstration.

Aronson, who said he was "deeply disturbed" by Gov. Dewey's refusal so far to replace Fanelli as an investigator of the episode, declared:

"Governor Dewey is certainly aware that a basic principle of good government is not to permit a public official to investigate his own actions."

Another protest against the anti-Robeson demonstration and riot came in a statement signed by a group of theatrical figures, including Oscar Hammerstein, Henry Fonda, Moss Hart and Arthur Miller.

10th Anniversary Of Worst War in Human History

By DANIEL DELUCE

Berlin, Sept. 1 (AP)—Gross grows on some of the war ruins of Berlin, but this is a capital of world hatred.

On the tenth anniversary of the bloodiest conflict in human history, which Adolf Hitler started and lost, people are trying fearfully to guess when the next war will break out.

The Russians are just tapering off their summer military maneuvers east of the Elbe. The Americans start a mock campaign with 110,000 troops in the West next week.

Germany, where the bloody conflict was spawned, today is a land divided.

This correspondent arrived in Europe in the spring 10 years ago, when hopeful souls still talked of "peace in our time."

For the next six years millions of men fought with the most destructive weapons the world had ever known. Cities were ruined and ports shattered throughout the continent and elsewhere in the world.

I watched a German army march through Slovakia to the Polish frontier while Hitler's foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, was packing to go to Moscow.

When Hitler's infantry was launched, I headed for Poland through the back door of the Carpathian mountains. I had never heard of Stuka dive bombers. I got acquainted with them in a Polish city called Lvov.

It is written that they who take the sword shall perish by the sword. But many more innocent are slain.

In the next terrible years, as the holocaust spread over the land, an estimated total of 22,000,000 persons perished. Another 34,000,000 were wounded and maimed.

World War 2 was supposed to have been fought to crush German militarism. But the lively ghost of the German Army—at least 100,000 troops strong—has arisen east of the Elbe river under Soviet sponsorship. It bears the name, "People's Police."

And in western Germany certain politicians speculate not too discreetly on the day when the west Germans again will bear arms.

In Berlin you can feel the cold steel of the next war although the crimson banners in the Soviet sector proclaim today as "Peace Day."

Communist propaganda screams here that Russia is the pillar of peace. In the same breath, however, it accuses the Red conquest of China and the prospective doom of Yugoslavia's Tito.

Americans here reaffirm their determination to defend western Europe against aggression, but in Washington there is haggling over how much to spend on it.

New enemies are sown around the world, but the bumper crop is in Berlin. The production of hate suffers no depression.

Bell Aircraft Lists Six Conditions for Mediation

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 1 (AP)—The Bell Aircraft Company has listed six conditions it says striking employees must meet before the company can continue mediation talks.

The company said "future meetings would serve no useful purpose" unless the conditions were met.

In a letter made public late last night, addressed to Commissioner Thomas H. Finn of the U. S. Mediation and Conciliation Service, Bell asked of Local 501, C.I.O. United Auto Workers, representing 1,700 striking production workers:

"1. Proof of representation of majority of Local 501 U.A.W.-C.I.O. through certification by National Labor Relations Board.

"2. Job security protection for employees who are returning to work.

"3. Employees shall be free to join or not to join any labor organization.

"4. Contract term of not less than one year's duration.

"5. No subversives to return to work.

"6. Those responsible for violence, threats or intimidation to our employees or their families, and those responsible for violation of the injunction (limiting picketing activities) will not be allowed to work for this company."

The letter followed state and federal efforts to mediate the 12-week-old strike and an announcement late yesterday that the State Board of Mediation had given its conclusions to both disputing parties.

Trailer Mishap Ties Up Traffic On Wurts Street

A tractor-trailer mishap on Wurts street early last night hampered traffic for a short time and two other minor mishaps were reported to the police Wednesday.

The report at 7:29 p. m. said the truck jack-knifed on Wurts street near Hunter when J. A. Thomas of Albany, was forced to back it into the curb where it hit and damaged an electric line pole, near 85 Wurts street.

The truck, owned by William C. Romani, Newtonville, N. Y., was headed north on the street and was "just above Hunter street when its brake air lines gave out," the report said.

Officers Walter Fitzgerald, Henry Ronnenborg, Thomas Tenshaw and Carl Janaszewicz were dispatched to investigate and handle traffic.

Police were notified at 5:57 p. m. that a car operated by Robert Zimmer, of Chapel street, struck the wall in front of School No. 1 on Wilbur avenue when it failed to make the turn out of Chapel street. The driver was injured, the report said, but no report was given on the extent of injuries.

Lindsay H. Lloyd of Mt. Pleasant, owner and operator of a tractor-trailer notified police at 5:20 p. m. that the vehicle hooked a bumper of a sedan on Abel street during the time traffic was being directed from the scene of the fatal accident near the bridge. The car went on, and the name of its owner is unknown, the report said.

Carroll Morris Benefit Dance

A benefit dance for Carroll Morris, who suffered a broken back in a fall from a tree at his home, will be held Sunday evening at St. Ann's Hall, Sawkill. Dancing will get underway at 8:30.

Buses for the dance will leave Crown street at 8 o'clock and the general public is invited to attend. Music will be furnished by Bill Brown's orchestra.

The dance is being sponsored by the Sawkill baseball team of which Carroll was a member. A large attendance is indicated by the response of his many friends.

Massachusetts State Has Costly Legislative Session

Boston, Sept. 1 (AP)—Massachusetts Democrats and Republicans kept swinging at each other today after the longest—and costliest—legislative session in history.

Eight months of arguing left the rank-and-file members weary, but party leaders took aim for last-minute attacks looking forward to future campaigns.

Final adjournment came last night after approval of a $22,000,000 supplementary budget bringing the year's spending—in appropriations and bond issues—well over four hundred million dollars.

Democratic Gov. Paul A. Dever called the session one of "many achievements"—but he tempered this with a denunciation of the 20 Republican senators who held virtual veto power over his administration.

The Republicans were quick to reply. Senator Harris S. Richardson, C.O.P. floor leader, accused the Democratic administration of embarking on a "combined spend-thrift-socialistic program."

To Ride for Polio

Woodstock, Sept. 1—Bob Smith of Saugerties, member of the Woodstock Riding Club, will give an exhibition on his exceptionally trained mount, Pepper, at Turnblow Guest Ranch, West Kill, on Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon, September 3 and 4, for the benefit of the polio fund.

Saugerties Women Inherit Money

New York, Sept. 1 (Special).—The estate of the late John Wagner of the Bronx, New York, half of which goes to Saugerties residents, was appraised here today by the State Transfer Tax Department at $60,399, gross value, and $56,580, net.

A niece, Katherine Snyder, and a sister-in-law, Louise Wagner, both of 38 Robinson street, Saugerties, inherit one-fourth of the estate each. The remaining one-half goes to a cousin, Lizzie Strauss of the Bronx. Mr. Wagner died last March 23.

Smash Store Windows

New York, Sept. 1 (AP).—Two men were arrested last night after, police said, they smashed more than a score of windows in shops that are the indirect targets of a strike. Booked on charges of weapons law violations and malicious mischief were Eugene Sullivan, 30, and Patrick DiNapoli, 34, identified by police as members of Local 3, A.F.L. Electrical Workers. All but one of the stores damaged are subscribers to the struck Holmes Electric Protection Co. Service, which provides burglar alarm and patrol service for merchants. Local 3 has been on strike against the Holmes Service since August 15.

Two Load Limits

Gouverneur, N. Y., Sept. 1 (AP).—Motorists crossing Duke's Bridge just outside this northern New York community are wondering how one span can have two safe load limits. A sign of the Governor's side says the safe limit is five tons, a sign on the Town of Fowler side places the limit at four tons.

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

Have some material from Robert Matthews of Ponckhockie among which is "Clearwater's History of Ulster County" published by W. J. Van Dusen in Kingston, in 1907. This book has been the bible of local historians since its publication. Each town's history and churches are covered in detail by experts. It also contains a biographical collection of famous men of the county. Also covered are such subjects as law by the Hon. John J. Linson; the medical profession by Henry Van Hovenberg, M.D., who is also remembered as the school doctor of the early 1920's; the newspapers of Ulster county by Jay E. Klock, editor and publisher of the Kingston Freeman; the Masonic Fraternity, by John E. Kraft; the schools of the county, Professor S. R. Shear, and even the bluestone industry by Charles E. Root.

In loaning this book as well as others, Mr. Matthews mentioned that this year marks the 100th year of St. Mary's Church, so I looked up the Roman Catholic Church in Clearwater's history and found "the first record connected with a Catholic Church in Rondout is an account of names of men who subscribed towards the building of the church in Rondout, and its vicinity by order of the Rev. P. O'Reilly on September 22, 1833. The amount of the first collection was $32.02. Ten years later I see under the Rev. Myles Maxwell, Saugerties and Rondout, having been made into separate missions, Father Maxwell took up his residence in Saugerties, attending Rondout every second Sunday. Many drove, some even walked on other Sundays to Saugerties to hear Mass. When Father Maxwell was later relieved of the care of Saugerties and neighboring places, he was able to redouble his energy in behalf of Rondout and began the planning of a large brick church. He engaged the brilliant architect, Keeley, of Brooklyn, who undertook to build the handsome structure, the corner stone of which was finally laid on May 21, 1848. The frame building was left standing within the new edifice until a short time before the solemn blessing of the present building which took place July 8, 1849. Sadly, Father Maxwell did not long survive the completion of his work as he died August 21, 1849. His remains were first interred in the adjoining cemetery and afterwards placed within the precincts of the church which he had encouraged to be built.

October 3, 4 and 5 of 1906 were devoted to the Hudson-Fulton celebration in Kingston during Mayor Walter P. Crane's time, to whom this collection of facts had originally belonged. No doubt many can remember 40 years back, when Kingston streets, creek and river were lit for this event. It is said some 10,000 persons gathered at the City Hall and O'Reilly's grove across the street, to hear Gov. Charles E. Hughes and also to see the little replica of the Half Moon and also the Clermont which came up the river. Later, the Clermont found its permanent home in our well-known Kingston Point Park lagoon. As time went on, no one seemed to bother to repair or paint the Clermont and the elements in time destroyed the exquisite model which so proudly came up on its own steam power, escorted by Navy vessels and dignitaries. How many can remember the Clermont in our lagoon near the band-stand when the Day Line boats used to land at the Hudson River Pavilion dock?

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
New York, Aug. 31 (AP)—September is likely to tell whether the business recovery effort is to be knocked galley-west by costly battles between labor and management.

The steel dispute comes to the showdown point in two weeks. And today John L. Lewis gives another twist to the screws, calling for a two-day week in the coal mines next week. The nation's coal stocks estimated to be dropping at the rate of a million tons a week, will be sliced 3 1/2 million tons that week.

Strike threats still hang over the auto, electric appliance and rubber industries. One big rubber company, B. F. Goodrich, is already struck. In these and other industries, labor and management are reported holding off contract decisions to see which way the steel stalemate will be resolved. Not only is there the strike threat, but also the question of what wage increases might do to prices, sales, volume, and company profit and loss sheets—and purchasing power.

The steel dispute will come to a head over the second week-end in September. The President's Fact-Finding Board is expected to make its recommendations Sept. 10. The unions have set Sept. 14 as the strike deadline. In the few days in between, the steel companies and the union must decide what they'll do about the board's suggestions.

Unless another truce extends the strike deadline, observers fear the time will be too short for the two parties to reach an agreement. The union has asked wage and pension concessions adding up to 30 cents an hour. Some think the board may suggest that be cut about in third.

Strikes in the first postwar years merely added to the inflationary spiral by aggravating shortages of goods in great demand, and boosting prices.

This fall, however, strikes are more apt to deepen the recession. In most industries finished goods inventories are high enough to take care of consumer demand for some time. But the loss of purchasing power by workers in struck industries will hit retailers hard, and mushroom out all through the economy.

For example, the railroads that serve the coal fields are already hit by the three-day week, which Lewis decreed July 1. Freight traffic is down and rail employees have been laid off.

Coal operators have assumed that Lewis' short week is aimed at reducing the huge coal stockpiles above ground at the start of the summer. The U. S. Bureau of Mines estimates there were 74,152,000 tons above ground July 1. Mine owners say that 45 million tons is a safe operating margin for the nation.

With so much coal available, Lewis' position in the bargaining table in June was not too hot. By ordering his men to work three days a week instead of five, he has been able to bring the stockpile down considerably. The Bureau of Mines is due to say Friday how much coal was available August 1. Guessing in the industry is that the figure will be about 62 million tons.

Since then the supply is believed to have dropped about one million tons a week, so that when Lewis' men start their two-day Labor Day week, stockpiles should be about 58 million tons. One reason that stockpiles haven't dropped any faster is that coal production has been gaining since the first big drop in July. It is now up to around eight million tons a week, compared with 11 to 12 million tons before the three-day week order.

Operators say part of the gain is due to increased efficiency and mechanization. But part is due to increased productivity of many workers, who are on piece-rate pay. Eager on perhaps by their wives to bring more money home, these men have turned out more coal in three days in recent weeks than they did right after the Fourth of July, when coal production dropped to 4 1/2 million tons.

Labor leaders in other industries deny that they are just waiting to see what happens in steel and coal before pushing this year's fourth-round bargaining to a conclusion.

But many on the management side of the table believe that when the steel potters take shape in a couple of weeks, and Lewis' tactics and chances become clearer, the die will have been cast for peace or war this fall in the key industries. Until that is known, the trend of business in general will be in doubt.

Squirrel Worries 'Mother'
Moscow (AP)—Antics of one of the younger members of her family have driven a good-natured mother cat at the Moscow zoo to the edge of a nervous breakdown. It's an ever-continuing puzzle to her as to just how her smallest "offspring" can scamper along the ceiling of the cage they live in without mortal danger. But just wait until she sees him crack a nut! For the baby is a young orphaned Russian squirrel.

Plastic Starch Makes Cotton Wear Longer
Here is one of the new and interesting applications of plastics to lighten the housewife's burden. This plastic starch comes in liquid form, ready to mix with cold water, and requires no heating. It is economical in both use and cost, selling for 59 cents a quart, which is equal in starching qualities to eight quarts of standard preparations. Tests in home and laboratory show that plastic starch makes cottons wear about twice as long as those starched in the usual fashion, and will keep fabrics crisp through eight or 10 launderings.

Wear tests show speedily that curtains, garments and other pieces that starched tend to shed dirt and reveal few evidences of wear after repeated washings.

Dead and Injured Pile Up Today in Tokyo's Typhoon

By O. H. P. KING

Tokyo, Sept. 1 (AP)—Dead and injured piled up today in Tokyo's typhoon-flooded ravished area with 68 known dead, 223 injured and 50 missing in the metropolitan area which includes Yokohama.

Some 100,000 men worked feverishly to sandbag river levees against a repetition of floods which in 1947 drowned 2,000.

Reports of property damage from wind and water mounted steadily after the blow which lashed the Tokyo Bay metropolitan area last night, left 66,000 homeless, verified figures from the national rural police showed.

But the big danger was to come when the Tone River and other streams—swollen by 13 inches of rain in the mountains—ragged down onto the Kanto plain north of Tokyo.

It was here, authorities feared, that the 1947 devastation to the Tokyo area might be repeated. The Japanese government concentrated its 100,000-man labor force in this heavily diked low country.

Waters of the Tone already lapped at the bridge of the main rail line. And the flood crest was yet to come.

All the dead were Japanese. The only American mentioned in either casualty or missing lists was an English Army soldier hospitalized by flying glass.

Less than 24 hours after the typhoon whipped Tokyo Bay into 50-foot waves with 100-mile winds this was the dismal picture.

Eighteen ships and boats sunk and 80 missing, most of them torn from moorings in Tokyo and Sagami Bays.

In Tokyo alone, 49,000 persons were being fed and sheltered by the Japanese Red Cross and government agencies. Many left damaged homes but most fled rising flood waters.

In Kanagawa prefecture, which embraces Yokohama and the hard hit western shore of Sagami Bay, more than 10,000 were homeless. To a lesser degree, it was the same through a total of nine prefectures on central Honshu Island.

The storm did extensive damage to U. S. military installations, housing areas and aircraft.

Grilled Sparrow

Tokyo, Sept. 1 (AP)—"Kitty" was rough on Tokyo's sparrows.

Last night's typhoon, called "Kitty" by weather observers for identification purposes, left many sparrows so exhausted they could no longer cling to branches.

Commuters were picking them up by the dozens. "Haven't you ever eaten grilled sparrow?" one of the Japanese asked.

From 1944 to 1946 he served Temple Beth El in Fall River, Mass., as a replacement for the permanent rabbi who became a navy chaplain. Since 1946 Rabbi Wasser has been at Beth El Synagogue in Torrington, Conn.

Police Say Negro Admits Seeing Woman Slain

Atlanta, Sept. 1 (AP)—Police announced today a Negro had admitted witnessing the slaying of Mrs. Lydia Thompson, wife of a wealthy auto dealer, near Pontiac, Mich.

Capt. Delmar Jones of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation said Johnny Stark Vanderbilt, 37, told officers verbally that he was with two white men who murdered her. He denied taking part in the 1945 slaying.

Vanderbilt gave us a perfect description of Mrs. Thompson," said Police Lieut. B. G. Ragsdale of the GBI's Lie Detector Division.

He told us he was driving the car for the two white men. They picked Mrs. Thompson up at a parking lot about 35 miles from where her body later was found in a swamp.

Jones and Ragsdale said the Negro named the two white men but they declined to make the names public at this time. The officers said a check with Michigan police showed Mrs. Thompson's car was found at a parking lot after the murder investigation started in 1945.

They declined to disclose details of the slaying story but said Vanderbilt told them one of the white men recently had been in Georgia with him. The Negro and the white man were charged with operating a swindle in which Negro laborers were signed up for $10 each in a non-existent union.

Vanderbilt was arrested on this minor charge and then started talking, officers said. The white man got away.

Carlins Trying Again To Circle World in Jeep

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 1 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Ben Carlins of New York are trying again to circle the world in a sea-going jeep.

The couple put out quietly from Halifax at dawn today for the Azores and England. A fog covered the Atlantic.

The Carlins' call their frail craft "The Half-Safe." A sail is rigged to help out the motor. Drop tanks of extra gasoline trail in the wake.

Carlins, a 37-year-old Australian, and his wife first tried the trip in July, 1948. About 800 miles out of New York, the propeller shaft broke. A freighter picked them up and took them to Montreal.

Not After Presidency

Washington, Sept. 1 (AP)—Republican Senator Taft says he's not a candidate for the 1952 presidential nomination—and the only thing he's got his eye on is the 1950 Senate race in Ohio. He said last night in a radio interview that he expects to spend the next three or four months touring his home state to "tell them why I voted for this and that." He is running for re-election in Ohio next year.

Deer Horn Farms

Moscow, (AP)—In the Soviet Far East special farms are busy growing deer horns. This sounds like a strange occupation, but in fact it is a profitable one. For the deer and the young horns of this species possess medicinal qualities highly valued by specialists. The spotted deer is found only in the Maritime districts of the Soviet Far East. The deer farms have a double task—to collect this valuable product and to permit the spotted deer to multiply.

Just Publicity Stunt

Fort Lee, N. J., Sept. 1 (AP)—The young man stopped his taxi on the George Washington Bridge, saying he felt ill. He got out, stepped to the guard rail and plunged over. But this time it wasn't suicide. A big white parachute blossomed out under the bridge and the youth floated 248 feet down to the Hudson river, untangled himself, and swam to the New Jersey shore. He was Robert "Jumping Jack" Niles, 22, a self-confessed publicity seeker with a yen for jumping off high places—with a parachute, of course.

Secret Navy Photo Found as Mural In Capital Cafe

Washington, Sept. 1 (AP)—A navy jet fighter recently climbed 48,840 feet into the sky to snap a picture of the Washington area. Showing military installations and public buildings in sharp outline, the photograph was withheld from general publication.

Now it has turned up on the wall of a downtown cocktail lounge and restaurant.

Norman Abomze, manager of the "400" Restaurant, said he found it in the cafe three weeks ago; apparently a navy man left it behind.

Abomze liked it. He had it enlarged and mounted it in his collection of photo-murals of capital scenes, he said.

Two admirals, seated in a booth, noticed it and had a big laugh, Abomze said. Other naval officers wanted it taken down.

Abomze declined. Any possible damage to security, he contended, could not be undone now.

Capital newspapers had been requesting copies of the photograph for weeks but somehow the navy never came through. Some navy officers said it marked a new record for high-level photography.

That the Banshee twin-jet job which handled the assignment was still climbing at 52,000 feet.

One report said the photograph was held up for possible use in connection with the Congressional investigation of the high-flying B-36 bomber.

Details of the newly-developed camera with which it was made are still secret.

Other Russian Stays

New York, Sept. 1 (AP)—Unlike his buddy who went back to Russia, Peter Pirogov, refugee Soviet flier, says he is determined to stay in America. In Pirogov's words, Anatole Barsov, with whom he fled from the Soviet, is a "swine and a scoundrel" for going home. Pirogov said yesterday that the Soviet embassy in Washington had used threats and offered bribes to try to get him to go back, too. But he said he has "not been disillusioned" here and intends to stay. Pirogov, who with Barsov deserted the Soviet Air Force last October 9 in the U. S. zone of Austria, is now living in New York and writing a book. Barsov was returned to the Russians in Austria by American authorities at his own request yesterday.

Mrs. Dorothy Johnson is lifted aboard a lifeboat of the tanker L. S. Wescott after she, her husband, Dr. Orton Johnson, and two other men had clung to the mast (right) of their sunken yawl for 23 hours in Lake Huron's Saginaw Bay. They were taken aboard a Coast Guard cutter to a hospital in Bay City, Mich. The yawl was sunk by a large wave. This picture was taken by Milton Endres, a crew member of the Wescott which arrived in port at East Chicago, Ind. The man hanging over the side is unidentified. (A.P. Wirephoto)

CORSAIR CLIPPED FOR SPEED—To get that bit of extra speed that he hopes will put him out in front in the Thompson Trophy event at the National Air Races in Cleveland, O., pilot Cook Cleland sawed 5 feet off each end of the 41-foot wing of his Corsair, and added a contrivance of his own design to "hold her in the turns." Cleland, a former Navy ace who now operates an airport at Willoughby, O., won the Thompson purse in 1947, but was forced out last year because of motor trouble.

Rain Hampers Bill At Duchess Fair; Big Show Tonight

A downpour of rain at 4:30 p. m. Wednesday sent visitors scurrying for shelter and forced cancellation of the evening entertainment at the second day of the Dutchess County Fair at Rhinebeck.

The rain held off long enough to permit completion of the trot and pace races, and in spite of the cloudy weather all day long thousands of spectators visited the fairgrounds to see the exhibits and witness the races, pony judging and cattle competitions. The carnival midway was also crowded from opening time until the downpour.

Fair officials promised a double feature bill of entertainment to-night to make up for the disappointment last night. The six vaudeville acts plus a show staged by Horace Heidt and his show winners will be presented for the regular grandstand admission price.

Even last night's rain did not send many visitors home until after they were sure there would be no entertainment. Most of the patrons caught in the downpour headed not for their homes but for the refreshment tents conducted by various area churches, where for a time every available seat and standing place was taken.

Reports from the fairground this morning were: "Weather good, grounds dry, track fast."

In addition to the usual farm, homemaking and commercial exhibits there were several exhibits of particular interest to Ulster county residents because they were of items not seen in other fairs in this area.

One of these is the "40 and 8" railroad car from the French Conitide Train. The car, one of 98 in the train, is the one assigned to New York state and exhibited at the fair under the sponsorship of Dutchess County Volume 502 of the American Legion's 40 and 8 Society. In addition to several articles sent over from France, the car contains a mass of mementos from World War 1 and 2. There is also a prayer desk which, according to popular legend, might have been used by Jesus of Ave. Another interesting exhibit is the one sponsored by the Northern Dutchess Rod and Gun Club with cooperation of the New York State Conservation Department. In it are live wild animals, including a platinum and silver fox, a black bear cub, raccoons, gray foxes, mallards, hawks and a beautiful red tail hawk. The Rhinebeck Boy Scouts also have a tent in connection with the wild life exhibit.

Banks Are Strikebound

Rome, Sept. 1 (AP)—Rome and Naples banks were strikebound for two hours today. Employees staged a brief walkout to protest against the institution of split working hours, scheduled to begin October 1.

Rail Workers Now Enjoy 5-Day Week

Washington, Sept. 1 (AP)—The five-day week most other American wage-earners have enjoyed for years went into effect today for nearly a million railroad workers.

It is a revolutionary change for the rail industry, which must continue keeping the trains running day in and day out without a halt.

The reduction from a six-day week, effective last midnight, was a long time coming for the million non-operating workers who seek and maintain the trains. Under terms of an agreement worked out between the rail unions and carriers—based on recommendations made by a presidential board last December—these workers will get the same pay for the shorter week that they got for working six days.

William M. Leiserson, chairman of the presidential board, said however that the new five-day week rates will be about the same as the average for factory workers for comparable skills.

The trains are expected to keep their present schedules. The several hundred thousand operating workers, such as engineers and firemen, are not affected by the changes. They are paid on a mileage basis.

The railroads, given an eight-month notice of the new work week, began in advance to cut corners to save money. For instance, they closed many freight stations and offices on Saturdays. And many jobs are being mechanized.

Economies already put into effect, or in the process of being made, are designed to hold to a minimum any required additions to the railroad working force.

The carriers at one time estimated they would have to hire between 200,000 and 300,000 extra men.

Now the unions estimate the number will be 100,000 or less. The change-over has concerned the Postoffice Department to the extent that it has said it may have to move more mail by air and truck, particularly on week-ends when most of the non-operating workers will have their two days off.

But the department is waiting to see how the new arrangement works out.

As to costs, the presidential board estimated the shorter week would mean an initial $380,000,000 annual payroll cost. William T. Farley, president of the Association of American Railroads, figured it at $450,000,000.

The railroads get a four per cent freight rate boost, worth $293,000,000 in added revenue, effective today to help defray costs of the change. Farley said recently the carriers will "try to get along" without asking for a further increase.

Approximately one-fourth of all tax revenue collected by the various state governments in the United States is paid by motorists.

MacArthur Says Communism Is No Japan Threat

Tokyo, Friday, Sept. 2 (AP)—General MacArthur today observed the fourth anniversary of the Japanese surrender ceremony with a statement that communism no longer is a major threat in Japan.

"Today, Japan might, indeed, be viewed as a symbol of hope for less fortunate peoples everywhere by the despotic rule of a forward-looking review of the occupation which he commands. The formal surrender took place Sept. 2, 1945.

"The Japanese people," he said,

"have fully and faithfully observed their surrender commitments and advanced steadily along the road of spiritual regeneration and physical reconstruction."

Nothing "accelerated progress" in every phase during the past year, he said that assaults on democracy by "the small existing Communist minority" had been effectively repulsed by Japanese public opinion rather than by police power.

"Trade unionization progress he acknowledged, 'has been somewhat impeded by the machinations of an irresponsible union leadership.'"

Optimism was expressed, however, that the rank and file "are moving to insist upon moderation and objectivity."

Economically, the supreme commander described Japan as "still in transition from an economy of survival to one of health," but he cited great advances in the past year, including large gains in production of coal, chemicals and electric power.

Expenditures, he said, totaled $103,000,000 in 1946; $173,000,000 in 1947; $258,000,000 in 1948 and already had exceeded the 1948 total in six months of 1949.

In four years Japan's population has grown by 9,500,000, MacArthur reported, yet there has been no mass unemployment, no social unrest and no large-scale riots.

MacArthur commented that his occupation policy "time and again" had been simultaneously attacked "by the leftists as too reactionary and by the conservatives as too liberal."

"Such an atmosphere," he said, "while giving assurance that our moderate course is well charted, does not contribute to an objective public appraisal of the situation."

Reds Take Credit

London, Sept. 1 (AP)—The tenth anniversary of Hitler's march into Poland prompted a new claim by the Russians today that they won the war singlehanded. The claim was made in an editorial from the weekly "New Times" quoted by Moscow radio said "New Times." The Soviet people bore the entire burden of the war against the German Fascist invaders. In that singlehanded struggle the Soviet Army ground down the main forces of Hitlerite Germany, which had the resources of all of occupied Europe."

Christopher Columbus first saw land in the New World at San Salvador or Watling Islands in the Bahamas.

Together on Project

Westport, N. Y., Sept. 1 (AP)—New York and Vermont were launched today on a cooperative effort to develop recreational, industrial and other resources of the Lake Champlain basin. A group of 35 legislators and officials representing the two states decided last night to create an interstate commission for the project. After a three-day tour of the area, they agreed there were many problems that could be handled best through a joint effort. The principal development is expected in recreational facilities.

McKenney on Bridge

Need Planned Play For Success Here

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
American's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

Today's hand involves one of the finer points in the play of the hand. The bidding is normal.

When East leads the queen of hearts, North must hold up the ace until the third round. Now the question is, should North give up a club trick? If he does he is automatically down, losing three hearts, the ace of spades and a club trick.

North's first play, after winning the third heart with the ace, should be a small spade to the king, hoping to find East with the ace. East will play low and North will win the trick with the king. Now play for a three-three break in diamonds. Cash the four diamond tricks. On the fourth diamond East is squeezed. He cannot discard a club, or declarer's entire club suit will set up. If he discards a heart he will not have a long heart to cash, when he gets in. Therefore, the only play he can make is to discard the nine of spades.

North has already marked East with the ace of spades, so when East discards a small spade from dummy toward the queen, West will put on the ten spot. North must play low and East is forced to take the trick with the ace.

Playing the hand this way, declarer will make two spade tricks, four diamonds, one heart and two club tricks, thus making his contract.

Outdoor Dice Boss Held in $10,000 Bail by Judge

Mineola, N. Y., Sept. 1 (AP)—Twenty-nine men were taken into court yesterday on gambling charges after a raid on an outdoor dice game in the cool shadows of a Long Island glen.

Police said they found a dice table sheltered from sunshine by a tent-awning arrangement. Sandwiches and other refreshments were placed to the side for the players.

The secluded scene of the dice game was near fashionable North Hills in a wealthy section of Nassau county.

Joseph De Georgia, 47, of New York city, was placed under $10,000 bond for the grand jury when he was arraigned before District Court Judge Joseph Lobkeucher. He made the bond.

De Georgia, described by police as boss of the dice layout, was charged with attempting bribery and common gambling.

When a policeman became suspicious of cars shuttling back and forth through the woods, District Attorney Frank A. Culotta said, De Georgia tried to buy him off with a bribe.

Later, Culotta said, De Georgia offered money to six other policemen who were drawn into the investigation.

De Georgia did not enter a plea in court. But he said outside that the charges are untrue.

Twenty-one customers were fined $10 each after they pleaded guilty to testing their luck at the dice.

Three alleged lookouts, who failed to tip off the arrival of raiding police, were held under $500 bond each for trial September 14 on common gambling charges.

Four sedan drivers, who officers said carried customers to and from the woody gambling center, were held on similar charges under the same bonds for trial on the same date.

The $2,500 which police said they scooped off the dice table remained in custody of authorities.

Receiving Award on Washer Display

Briggs Contrast On Easy Washers Takes First Prize

A window display in which the old 1926 model of an Easy washer was contrasted with the newest "one hour wash day machine" now manufactured by Easy won for J. Ellis Briggs, local dealer, a $100 first prize in a 10 county contest among Easy washer dealers.

There were 79 dealers participating in the contest which covered a territory from Albany to New York. There were two classifications in the contest one for specialty and hardware dealers in which Mr. Briggs participated and one for furniture and department stores.

Featured in the display was a 1926 Easy washer which was placed in contrast with the present day one hour wash day machine with its automatic spin rinse with twin faucets and built in filter. His display was entered in the contest which was conducted from June 19 to July 2.

The contest was nation wide with prizes being awarded to winners in various divisions throughout the country. The American Washer and Ironer Institute judged the contest.

The display of J. Ellis Briggs was at his place of business on Albany avenue at the junction of the East Chester street by-pass and Route 9W. Mr. Briggs is local dealer for Easy washers and ironers and Paul Conway of New Paltz is district sales manager. The display attracted a great deal of attention due to its unique theme.

Cerasaro Sport Center Will Open Here on Friday

Cerasaro Brothers Sport Center, formerly known as Augusto Gun Shop, will open at its new location, 336 Clinton avenue, Friday, September 2.

The new building located at the head of North Front street diagonally across from the Senate House, is of modern construction designed and decorated by Samuel J. Cerasaro engineered and constructed by Macamny's Construction Company.

The sport shop has been serving Kingston and vicinity for 34 years under various names. The late Augusto Cerasaro established his first business at 646 Broadway in 1915. In 1935 he moved to 40 North Front street in the Luccardo building. At that time it was known as the Augusto Gun Shop. Finally he moved the business to 59 North Front street and the business became known as the Augusto Sport Shop.

Augusto Cerasaro died April 12, 1939. Known to many as "Que", he was an expert lock and gun smith and for 25 years preceding his death was a sporting goods and Columbia bicycle dealer.

His widow Anna Cerasaro, and sons Samuel J. and John Cerasaro are carrying on the business in the new location. They announced today they will carry a full and complete line of sporting goods and toys.

Illinois Farmers Stir English Rural Folk

Little Gaddesden, Eng., Sept. 1 (AP)—Fifty Illinois farmers here to study English country life are drawing a lot of study from the English.

Their business suits and general grooming don't fit the English idea of straw-chewing, over-alled hayseeds. They have caused a bigger stir than a whole brood of three-legged chickens.

"I've never seen any farmers like these," chuckled Steve Oakins, 70-year-old retired village postmaster. "Lot of Clark Gables, that's what they are."

Miss Margaret Somersby chimed in: "They all look like film stars."

"Sure, I guess we guys on the land like our clothes to fit well," laughed Fred Zimmerman, a sun-tanned, 200-pound farmer from San Jose, Ill.

His outfit included a nylon shirt with socks to match, a blue silk tie with red squares and yellow ships sailing all over it, a gold ring and a gold tiepin.

Harold Paddock of Aurora, Ohio, reached the quarterfinal round of the 49th Annual National Amateur Golf Championship today with a 2 to 1 conquest of Ray E. Weston of Spokane, Wash.

The match was played under atrocious weather conditions on the 6,000-yard east course of the Oak Hill Country Club. A heavy rain marred the start of all the fifth round matches and winds, with gusts up to 35 miles an hour, protected par.

Grand Jury Makes Last Report Today

Five Open Indictments, One Closed Included in Deliberations

The Ulster County Grand Jury which began its deliberations in May submitted its final report in county court this morning. The jury returned five open indictments, one closed indictment and six dismissals.

Fred Douglas Connolly, 41, of 4 Broadhead street, Ellenville, was indicted by the grand jury on a charge of criminal negligence in the operation of a motor vehicle. Connolly was arrested by state police who alleged he was the driver of an automobile which struck and killed two pedestrians, Donald Williams, 28, and James Emanuel O'Dell, 32, both of Benton's Corners, as they were walking along Route 44-55 near Gardiner on July 23. In court today, Judge John M. Cashin directed a plea of innocent be entered for Connolly and that he be granted opportunity to retain counsel.

Also indicted was Bervan L. Moore, 24, of Buffalo, who was charged with two counts of forgery, second degree. Moore was arrested by Kingston police and alleged to have passed a bogus check in the amount of $200 in Elston Sport Shop on July 15. A plea of innocent was entered and Moore informed the court that he had engaged Charles Saccaman as his attorney.

Other indictments included one charging burglary, third degree; unlawful entry and grand larceny, second degree, against John Skiff and Melvin Conklin. Pleas of innocent were entered for both and Charles Saccaman was assigned as attorney.

Conklin was also charged in two other indictments: with forgery, second degree, allegedly committed in Ulster county on July 15. With him on these indictments was charged Thomas Joseph Skiff, 17, who on receipt of the grand jury was adjudged eligible for trial as a youthful offender. Saccaman was also assigned as attorney in those cases.

Six dismissals were granted by the grand jury to persons arrested but against whom insufficient evidence existed. Those persons were discharged and paid returned. They were Renton Peebles, Richard Fred Busick, Lawrence McNair, Walter J. Ledderhose, Michael Dean and "Jane Doe."

County Judge Cashin discharged the May grand jury, which he said served continuously since that month during a summer which "was not cool." The judge said he and the district attorney's office were "very grateful for the service which you rendered."

Navy Man Faces Desertion Charge

Washington, Sept. 1 (AP)—James Patrick Ryan, 24, who says he was shanghaied by the French Foreign Legion, goes before a navy court-martial today to answer a desertion charge.

The court, presided over by Lt. Cmdr. R. H. Koetz, convened at the naval receiving station in nearby Annapolis.

The navy charges that Ryan deserted while his ship, the destroyer Dickinson, was on assignment in the Mediterranean last year.

The seaman was missing for 19 months, then turned up at Canton, China.

There, in an interview, he told this story:

On shore leave at San Remo, Italy, on July 2, 1947, he missed his ship when she sailed. He proceeded to Nice, France, hoping to catch the Dickinson when she put in there.

Instead, he was picked up by French Foreign Legion Military Police. He spoke no French, the French Military Police no English. Therefore he spoke in German which he had learned during the war.

The French therefore refused to believe he was an American and "threw me in a military jail."

U.A.W. Silent

Detroit, Sept. 1 (AP)—Union strategy in the Ford Motor Co. contract talks remained a subject of speculation today after a closed-door session of the United Auto Workers' policy committee yesterday. U.A.W. spokesmen declined comment on the meeting.

Legion Would . . .

Industrial and civic leaders and pool their resources on a community plan. It is a key part of the Legion's 1950 domestic program.

The Legionnaires howled down with a booming chorus of "noes" a proposal by George Nicholas of Miami, Fla., that the Legion go on record as opposing a federal bonus for World War Two veterans at this time.

Only a scattering of the veterans gave voice approval to Nicholas' proposal.

The convention did not receive a formal resolution approving a federal bonus.

Four candidates are in the race for the $15,000-a-year job now held by Perry Brown of Beaumont, Tex. Each is a veteran of World War II.

An Associated Press survey of caucuses held by 44 state delegations shows George N. Craig, 40-year-old Brazil, Ind., attorney leading James Green, 33, of Omaha, Neb.

The unofficial tally gives Craig 1,637 votes and Green 1,278. Eric Cooke, Jr., 28-year-old Dawson, Ga., Legionnaire trails with 68 and Donald Wilson, 31, Clarksville, W. Va., has 53.

Missing are 228 votes. These include the states of Wisconsin, Wyoming, New Hampshire and Maryland and the District of Columbia.

It takes a minimum of 1,670 votes to elect.

The Legion's national commandery is a rich political plum. Often it's proved a stepping stone to higher public office.

Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson is a former national commander. So are ex-governors Paul McNutt of Indiana, and John Stelle of Illinois.

Paul Griffith, a former commander from Uniontown, Pa., recently was named assistant secretary of defense by President Truman.

Besides the $15,000 salary, the Legion job provides an annual expense account of more than $35,000 for the man named spokesman for 3,000,000 Legionnaires.

The Legion's 40 and 8 Society—a funmaking group—ended its four-day convention last night at a banquet after electing Clarence E. Smith of Raleigh, N. C., chief de chemin de fer (national commander). The 48-year-old World War I veteran succeeds Harold J. Riley, Detroit.

Formulas Are Tested For G.I. Dividend Pay

Washington, Sept. 1 (AP)—The Veterans Administration said today it is working out tentative formulas for the payment of a National Service Life Insurance dividend next year.

The agency said the tentative formulas are being tested on hundreds of thousands of sample policies.

The tests are to discover whether the payments the formulas would authorize would approximate equal the $2,800,000,000 to be divided among some 20,000,000 policies. A formula which would provide too large, or too small, a payment must be adjusted.

This process of testing and adjusting is expected to take several more weeks.

Tito Must Decide On Russian Quarrel

Washington, Sept. 1 (AP)—The United States and Britain are reported to be leaving to Yugoslavia any decision on whether to bring its quarrel with Russia before the United Nations.

Diplomatic officials told newsmen today the two governments agree that it is a decision for Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito to make without any advice or prompting from them.

Dispatches from London and Belgrade have reported that the Yugoslav government is considering taking the case to the U.N. Security Council as a threat to the peace.

No Rain, No School

Jersey, Channel Island, Sept. 1 (AP)—School officials decided today the three R's will have to wait this year on a fourth R—rain. Jersey has had no rain for 30 days. Water levels are so low the island can't spare enough for the schools. They will open when the rains come.

Full coordination of the muscles of the eye is not believed to be attained in children until their fifth year.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAY BOYLE
New York, AP—It is ten years ago today since Adolf Hitler plunged the world into its first trillion-dollar war.

No paperhanger in history ever messed up a place more.

Remember? Millions of people heard the broadcast of the fateful speech to the Reichstag in which Hitler told the German people their troops had marched into Poland.

It gave a shivery feeling. The fiery emotionalism of the little man seeped through his alien tongue into the hearts of listeners in many lands. The hall in which he spoke was hung with scarlet banners for red is the color of war. And the hall shook with bursts of massed applause—as if led by invisible cheerleaders. It was like something out of the middle ages.

Exactly 2,074 days later the returns from Adolf's speech were in.

His Reich and many other countries were in ruins. Some 22,060,000 men, women and children had been killed, including Fuehrer Hitler and his arch-buddy, Benito Mussolini, who ended the war hanging by his heels beside his mistress, dead and bleeding. Some 34,400,000 had been wounded.

It was the biggest jackpot of all time for Brother Mars. He had rung up $1,116,991,463,084 on his cash register and about $230,900,000,000 in property damage. This doesn't even include the cost in money and damage of the long war in China, which is still in flower.

The United States picked up the biggest part of the check—$330,030,463,084—and it is still picking up the checks.

What does it all add up to? Well, the Germans are still sorting bricks from the rubble of their cities, and will be for years. They are bystanders now. But the chief issue raised by Hitler is still undecided—freedom or tyranny, the oldest issue on earth and never settled.

War didn't even dent the global population. Wars never do that so well as a good long plague. It is a tremendous tribute to the imperishable vitality and optimism of the human race that it has gone on having children like mad. There are some 2,300,000,000 people in the world, more than ever, and some 150,000,000 dwell in America—more, than ever.

Here more people are eating higher on the hog, living better, earning more, than at any period in our history. And America is still a little startled at the realization it has replaced the British Empire as the biggest single factor for world order. That carries the privileges of greater responsibility—and, inevitably, higher taxes. That is the price of being the big brother.

What did the war teach us? Well, chiefly, it taught us a sense of geography—and that's important. Places like Eastogre, Kasarine Gap, Tokyo, Paris, London, Liege, and Berlin don't seem so strange and far now. Millions came home with memories of what people are like and how they live in foreign places.

There is a steel skyscraper growing up now beside Manhattan's East river, the first building in the United Nations new home. The problem is whether everybody can grow up as it is growing. For the question is no longer whether any particular nation can get along in the world but whether all nations can get along in the world together.

Whether they do or not, it is doubtful whether war in itself, even in the radio-active atomic age, can alone destroy anything so durable and stubborn as mankind.

For nothing yet has ever been able to keep people from having hope—and children.

Suit on Jackpot Ban.
New York, Sept. 1 (AP)—The American Broadcasting Company has started court action to upset a federal ban on radio give-away shows. The suit is the first of several expected to be filed in the broadcasters' battle against a Federal Communications Commission order against the prize programs. The ban becomes effective the first of next month. It would knock off the air most of the jackpot shows which award some $5,000,000 a year in merchandise and cash to lucky listeners and contestants.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Season Was Success
The 1949 season at Camp Tri-Mount, Ulster-Greene Council's summer camp at East Jewett was highly successful in all phases, the council camping and activities committee learned Monday night at its first meeting of the new activities year. Chairman Walter F. Tremper of Kingston presided at the meeting where the report of the camp was presented by Charles E. Boardman, field scout executive and camp director. Scout campers from 36 different troops were at camp.

Outstanding among the accomplishments of the camp was the record compiled on the waterfront where 43 campers were taught to swim at least 50 feet and 25 campers completed their 50-yard swim in deep water. A total of 128 qualified as standard scout swimmers, 25 yards each in backstroke, side-stroke, breast stroke and free style. Ten advanced swimmers received Scout life guard rating. An innovation this year was the formation of the Kay-Bee Lake Swim Society, open to those campers who were capable of long distance swims. Seventy-eight qualified as quarter-mile swimmers and 42 received certificates for having completed the mile swim.

The campers earned 122 merit badges in 18 different subjects pertaining to camping and outdoor life, headed by 24 in swimming, 21 in rowing, 19 in life saving and 12 in physical development.

Herbert Bell of Milton was appointed by Mr. Tremper to be chairman of a new sub-committee to develop a long-range plan for the future development of Camp Tri-Mount. The sub-committee will establish a priority on various projects and will determine costs and related details on the proposed new construction which will include the central dining hall, storage building, troop campsite, water system, sewage system, boat house and rifle range.

Plan 1950 Camp
Plans were discussed for the promotion of next summer's camp and this will begin immediately with the district camping chairmen organizing their committees. The camp savings stamp plan, used this past year, was approved for the new year. The commissioner staff will distribute the stamps and books to the unit leaders in the next few weeks.

The committee approved a contract with the Krein Lumber Company to lumber the camp property during the coming winter. The operation will begin October 1 and must be concluded by July 1, 1950. James West of East Jewett will be in charge of the operation.

Improvement of the waterfront beach at Camp Tri-Mount was decided to be the next major project of the committee. Mr. West also will supervise this work which will involve cutting trees out of the lake edge, grading and surfacing the beach area and building a new pier. It is planned to have this project completed before the opening of next summer's camp.

Participation by Scouts of the council in the regional World Friendship project was discussed. Each Scout or Scoutmaster is to contribute a small sum which will be used for the rehabilitation of Scouting in the Philippines and Japan. This is the aim of the Scouting organization of New York and New Jersey as part of the national crusade to strengthen the arm of liberty during 1949-50.

All Scouts are urged to participate in a "Beaver Party" at Camp Tri-Mount on Saturday, September 10. Tent floors are to be treated with creosote, a fire-place is to be built in the picnic grove and the water system is to be drained for the winter.

Present at the meeting in addition to those named were Harold Van Voorhis and Edward Flanagan of Saugerties, Carl Faltzinger, Catskill; Val W. Morrow, Maplecrest; Alfred O'Brien, East Jewett; George B. Matthews, Frank Bourke of Kingston and Scout Executive Myron D. Keefe.

Grand Army Vets To Meet No More

Indianapolis, Sept. 1 (AP)—The Grand Army of the Republic broke up for the last time today. There was a final clasp of shaking old hands last night, a God-speed from their commander and a prayer.

Today six old veterans are scattering to the four winds, never to meet again, at least in formal campment. They signed and sealed the decision in their only business session yesterday. Then for more than an hour, veterans of later—but no more colorful—wars marched behind the separate cars in which the six old soldiers rode in a twilight parade.

With the old camp thus ended, the G.A.R. becomes a scattering of 16 members and a collection of historic mementoes.

Until the last member dies and the G.A.R. is at last disbanded by the U. S. Supreme Court, the relics will be in charge of peppery, gray-haired Cora E. Gillis, G.A.R. secretary.

After the disbanding, the last records go to the congressional library. Flags, badges and the seal go to the Smithsonian Institution.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held for 100 relatives and friends.

Leave After Wedding

Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. of New York, and his bride, the former Suzanne Perrin, of New York, stand outside the home of the bride's mother in New York after their marriage. Roosevelt, who is 35, recently was elected to Congress from New York's 20th District. His first marriage to Ethel du Pont ended in a Nevada divorce. It is the bride's first marriage.

F. D. Roosevelt, Jr. Weds Suzanne Perrin

New York, Sept. 1 (AP)—In a simple ceremony attended by a few relatives and friends, Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., was married yesterday to socialite Suzanne Perrin, wartime munitions reservist. The ceremony was held at the bride's East 66th street apartment. The couple met last spring and had been engaged six weeks.

It was the second marriage for 35-year-old Roosevelt, and the first for his bride. Roosevelt's marriage in 1937 to the former Ethel du Pont ended in divorce last May.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, the groom's mother, attended the ceremony. Roosevelt's brother, Elliott, was best man.

The Rev. Dr. Lee Vaughan Barker, pastor of the Broadway Tabernacle, performed the ceremony.

His bride, member of a socially prominent New York family, served for two years during the war as a member of the Marine Corps Women's Reserve.

With champagne and accordion music for the wedding guests, the couple received for an hour after the ceremony, then left by car on their wedding trip.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Lee Perrin, said Roosevelt had rented a home for his bride "somewhere in Georgetown," a section of Washington, D. C.

Miss Perrin's late father was senior partner in the law firm of Appleton, Rice and Perrin, and served as chairman of the Ciba Pharmaceutical Products Corp., Summit, N. J.

Roosevelt has two sons, Franklin 3rd, 11 years old, and Christopher, 8, by his former wife.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post
(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

PRESENT USES LIMITED

This letter is understandable, coming from one of the present generation. I'm rather confused about the use of visiting cards. First, I had some made to enclose with my graduation invitations and never used them again except to send with an occasional gift. When I married, I had some to enclose as 'at home' cards with our marriage announcements. Again their use seems to be limited to nothing more than an occasional present. Very occasional at that! Will you tell me whether they have gone out of circulation? Certainly they are a misnomer.

It is quite true that unless one is in the diplomatic service, visiting cards are used very rarely for their intended purpose. They are very useful for writing short invitations, their answers or for messages sent with gifts and flowers.

Restaurant Courtesy

Dear Mrs. Post: When seated in a restaurant with a business friend and her mother happens to come by and stops, and we are introduced, should I rise to meet her?

Answer: If you are a man, you do, of course; if a woman, you don't in a crowded restaurant unless you, at the one extreme, are very young, or at the other, she is very old. In any case, it would be polite to make the gesture of rising, if that is all you can do without standing in the way.

Man and Girl Propriety

Dear Mrs. Post: When staying in a hotel in the town in which my fiancée works (he lives at a men's club) must he say good-night at the elevators downstairs or may he come up with me to my own door? It's so public downstairs.

Answer: Properly, he says good-night to you downstairs. The fact that it is "so public downstairs" means that you might be jeopardizing your good name if anyone who knew either of you saw him go upstairs with you.

Do you know how to introduce someone to a group? Mrs. Post's leaflet, D-17, "Introductions," describes formal introductions, as well as introducing one's family.

To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

PRETTY APPEAL PLUS EASY FIT YARDSTICK FOR SELECTING 'CLOTHES WITH AN HEIR'

Movie star Jane Greer learned from her first lady-in-waiting experience that maternity clothes need to be both comfortable and pretty. These needs dictated her choice this time of the dark linen suit (right) with boxy hip length jacket, a straight skirt with drawstring waistband. She wears this suit with a pert eye-catching hat and smart one-strap pumps with Cuban heels (lower left). A bright butcher-boy jacket worn over dark slacks (left center) make Jane's favorite gardening togs. The shine of bugle bead embroidery confined to top of her white evening jacket is designed to pull glances upward to Jane's face.

By JANE GREER

Written for NEA Service

I leaved when I was expecting my first baby that I must wear easy fitting clothes and that the prettier they were, the better I felt.

For my second child, which I'm expecting in October, I'm as careful as I was before of the fit of my clothes at the waist, shoulders and arms. My doctor still warns that nothing must interfere with good circulation.

Yet he thinks no woman should neglect the pretty appeal of her clothes. I agree with him. This is one time, it seems to me, when a woman needs the "lift" which attractive clothes can give her. That's because we're apt to feel so "out of things" that the prettier your clothes are, the less you are going to feel that way.

I lead a normal but quiet social life. I dress up for my friends, husband and baby Albert. Although Albert is only 14 months old, he notices pretty clothes. He goes wide-eyed when I wear a flowery hat.

For lunching out or shopping I wear a dark linen suit. It's a maternity style. I picked the dark color because I look slimmer in it. The suit has a boxy jacket, that's hip length. The straight skirt has a drawstring waistband which can be let out as much as 12 inches. My slacks, which I wear around the house and in the garden when I work at my flowers or play with the baby and the dog, are also dark-colored. The waistband of my slacks has adjustable pleats. To wear over these I have changes of bright colored butcher-boy jackets. Color in my clothes gives me a "lift."

I dress up when my husband and I go out in the evening. My clothes for stepping out consist of a long black skirt with a drawstring waistband and a white silk jacket, which is made just like my butcher boy smocks. The evening jacket is embroidered at the top—collar, yoke and sleeves—with silver bugle beads. A secret I want to pass on to other mothers-to-be is that bright color or the sparkle of trimming confined to the neckline of clothes will pull glances up and away from the rest of her figure.

The shoes that we must wear at this time must, of course, be low-heeled. But there's no reason why the shoes that balance our pitched-forward weight must be ugly ground-gridders. Mine are one-strap pumps with Cuban heels, and they have my doctor's approval. I have these in leather for daytime wear; in black satin for evening.

Colonials Rained Out; Start Final Road Trip of Season Tonight

Cards Buy Frick, Bridgeport Hurler, For Rochester Farm

Rained out of one of their few remaining home games for the 1940 campaign, Manager Emil Gall's Kingston Colonials take to the road tonight for their final trip through the hinterlands. The Colonials play in Bridgeport tonight. Stamford's final local appearance of the season went by the boards last night when rain forced the postponement of the arduous tilt scheduled for municipal stadium.

The rain also may have checked whatever hope the locals had of taking over fifth place in the Class B circuit. The Colonials are currently four games out of fifth place with the season rapidly drawing to a close.

After tonight's tilt in Bridgeport, the Colonials move over to Waterbury for Friday's encounter and then return home to wrap up the 1940 campaign with a big holiday home schedule.

The league-leading Bristol Owls will be here for single attractions Saturday and Sunday nights and then the Waterbury Timers move in for the finale on Monday night.

Turnesa Tops Field In Amateur Golf

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Disaster in St. Louis, following the shocking loss of Tommy Hendrich, has rocked the league-leading New York Yankees back on their heels.

Two straight drubbings by the upstart Browns while Boston was cooling off the surging Detroit Tigers, has cut the Yankees' lead to two games as the season enters its final month.

There is a chance that Hendrich may be back in uniform within three weeks, but by that time the die may be cast in the meantime the Yankees have brought up first baseman Fenton Mole from Newark.

New York ran into the Browns in their hottest streak of the year and became the victims of St. Louis' sixth straight series victory. Once escaped from the cellar, there appears to be no stopping Zach Tabor's gang.

Bumping Vic Raschi in a four-run first inning last night, the Browns soundly thumped the Yankees, 10-3. Although nicked for 12 hits, Ned Garver went all the way for his 10th win. The 22nd homers by Jack Graham and Dick Kokos were the big blows for the Browns. Four hits by Joe DiMaggio provided the only Yankee spark.

New York, Sept. 1 (AP) — An Eastern All Star team of collegians will test the New York Pro Football Giants' new T-formation tonight for the benefit of the New York Herald Tribune's Fresh Air Fund.

Sieve Owen, Giants' head coach has snubbed the T for years, using it only as a change of pace for his single wing and A formations.

The collegians, drilled by Big Herman Hickman, head coach at Yale, also will employ the T. The 40-man college squad is drawn from 23 eastern schools, most of which used the T attack.

The game will be played at the Polo Grounds with the kickoff at 7:30 p. m. (E.S.T.).

Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa., Sept. 1 (AP) — A field of 64 of the country's top amateur golfers is listed for the fourth annual Walker Memorial Best Ball Match Play Tournament at Shawnee Country Club Sept. 9-11. Four members of the U. S. Walker Cup Team are entered. They are Willie Turnesa, Ray Billows and Ted Bishop, all from U. S. Amateur champions, and Jimmy McCallie, Philadelphia amateur champion. Turnesa and Doc Gallard, Scarsdale, N. Y., are the defending champions.

Still No Tuna

Belmar, N. J., Sept. 1 (AP) — Today is the third day of the four-day U. S. Atlantic Tuna Tournament, and it's about time somebody caught a tuna. Several hundred disappointed fishermen have caught nothing much beside sharks and an 18-pound dolphin, landed yesterday by Douglas Brewster of Bay Shore, N. Y. A blimp cruised over the fishing area yesterday to scout for tuna, but it didn't find any.

Turnesa Tops Field In Amateur Golf

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 1 (AP) — The 49th U. S. Amateur Golf Championship, now that it's down to where you can recognize the players without a scorecard, stacks up as a battle between Willie Turnesa and a flock of dark horses.

The defending tilist from Elmford, N. Y., little bigger than a full-grown brasso, stood out like an ailing thumb today as the tournament swung into the fifth and quarter-final rounds.

The big question around Oak Hill's 6,800 wooded yards was: Who's going to beat Turnesa? It won't be Robert (Ske) Riegel or Frank Stranahan or any member of the British Walker Cup team.

Riegel and Stranahan, two of the hottest favorites, went out yesterday one after the other. Part Perowice, the last of Britain's golfing sons bowed to Bill Campbell, the golfing legislator from Huntington, W. Va., who finished one up.

The international segment, with all the British lallies, was represented by a mere wisp of a boy from Canada — Bob Fair of Toronto, who is just 19, all of 125 pounds and playing his first tournament in the U. S.

Jimmy McCallie of Philadelphia provided the tournament's major upset when he ousted Riegel, the No. 1 favorite, 3 and 2. Riegel had put the skills under Stranahan in the featured third round joust, also 3 and 2.

Turnesa, masterful around the greens, gave par a whaling in disposing of two opponents only. He downed Sam Penecio of Milkins Park, Pa., 5 and 4, and then ousted Ray Billows, last year's runner-up at Memphis, 6 and 5.

Here's how they square off the ninth round today:

Bottom bracket — Crawford Reimann, Pensacola, Fla., vs. Campbell, Julius Borg West Hartford, Conn., vs. McCallie, Charlie Coo, Oklahoma City, vs. Marvie Ward, Rocky Mount, N. Y.; Fred Kammer, Jr., Gosport Pointe Farms, Mich., vs. Johnny Dawson, Hollywood, Calif.

Rain hit out the National League pennant race for the day, postponing both the St. Louis-Philadelphia and Brooklyn-Cincinnati games. Thus the Dodgers remain 1 1/2 games behind the Cardinals. The Brooks play a day-night doubleheader with Cincinnati today while the Cards meet the Phils in a single night game.

Eight home runs were hit, five by the New York Giants, as Leo Durocher's club thumped Pittsburgh, 12-5. Only 4,701 fans were on hand for the long distance hitting exhibition.

The Boston Braves tightened their grip on third place by edging the Chicago Cubs, 4-3, in 10 innings. Tommy Holmes' single over third base with two out in the tenth scored Sibby Sisti with the winning run. Elbie Fletcher added his hit to "Fletcher Night" with a two-run homer in the seventh.

Chezzies-Jones Resume Tonight

By The Associated Press

Chey Emile, one up in the 1949 City League's Shaughnessy finals, will send Lefty Bud Swarthour to the hill tonight against Jones Dalry at the Athletic Field. Game time is set for 6 p. m.

The Chezzies took the first game of the playoffs Tuesday night by 5 to 3 with Lefty Joe Jordan emerging victorious over Tommy Fisher.

Bill Windburn, veteran City League moundman, is expected to get the call for the Dairymen in hopes of evening the series at one game apiece.

Last night's game was rained out.

U. S. Seen as Good Bet for Davis Cup Competition in Future Years

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 1 (AP)—Even if the heroes of America's recent Davis Cup defense should depart from the amateur scene, this country is fortified with enough young tennis talent to insure its success in international competition for years to come.

That's the considered opinion of Alrick H. Man, Jr., captain of the U. S. Davis Cup forces, a steady customer at the national tennis championships this week. "All the members of this year's Davis Cup team should be good for at least one more year unless they retire or turn pro," said Man. "But if they aren't available, we have several youngsters coming along who should do all right with another year's experience."

High up on Man's list of future Davis Cup hopefuls are Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, Al Larson of San Francisco, Vic Seixas of Philadelphia and Buddy Behrens of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.—all members of this year's Davis Cup practice squad—Hugh Stewart of San Marino Calif., Charles Devos of Indianapolis, Sam Match of Los Angeles and Straight Clark of Pasadena, Calif.

Of that group, only Larson and Match, both seeded, were still in the running for the national singles championship as the tournament moved into its fourth day. But all have given a good account of themselves, even in defeat. Match, at 26 the oldest of the group, led Gianni Cucelli, the Italian champion 6-0, 7-5, 4-1 when rain halted all second round play yesterday. Clark ran defending champion Pancho Gonzales tagged before being out, 6-4, 7-5, 7-5, just ahead of the rain. Stewart, a 21-year-old husky from the University of Southern California, took the first set from Jaroslav Drobny, the self-exiled Czech, before losing, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2 in another match finished before the rains came.

Cochell Is Victor

Behrens lost to Earl Cochell of San Francisco 6-1, 6-3, 7-5, but somebody walked off with Buddy's two favorite racquets and he played with strange weapons.

With half a dozen postponed second round matches to be cleaned up today, only three bouts were scheduled in the third round of the men's division. These send Gonzales against Jim Brink of Seattle, Mulvey against Felisimo Ampon of the Philippines and Larson against John Bromwich of Australia.

Only one second round match remains to be played in the feminine division where the seeded ranks still are intact. That, put over until today, pits Mrs. Pat Todd of La Jolla, Calif., against Barbara Wilkins of New Rochelle, N. Y.

Mrs. Margaret Osborne duPont of Wilmington Del., the defending list, advanced to the third round yesterday, along with such seeded players as Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, and Gussie Moran of Santa Monica, Calif.

Catholic Keglers Open September 14

Opening matches in the 1949-1950 Catholic Bowling League will be rolled Wednesday night, September 14, at Johnny Ferraro's Bowlodrome, it was announced this morning.

With 10 teams already entered in this year's loop, at least two or four more are expected to enter before the deadline on September 7.

A final pre-season meeting will be held Wednesday, September 7, at St. Peter's School at which time final plans for the season will be discussed.

All team entries must be reported at that meeting.

Posts Qualifying Score

Brookline, Mass., Sept. 1 (AP)—Competitors from six states will be in the seven-woman delegation that will represent New England in the National Women's Open Championship Tournament. Mrs. Charles S. Spaulding of Westbury, N. Y. was one of those qualifying yesterday when the 36-hole sectional play was completed at the country club. Her score was 166.

Softball Playoffs

The City Softball Shaughnessy playoffs will resume tonight at Hasbrouck Park at 6:30 o'clock. With the regular season championships, Royal Grill, meeting Subway victory this evening, the next game will be played as part of a double-header Sunday, September 11.

game resulting in a tie. A win tonight will send them into the finals. Schulers Inn already has made the finals by defeating Ful-lers three straight. In the event of a Subway victory this evening, the next game will be played as part of a double-header Sunday, September 11.

Dulles to Decide seat will be made by the Republican and Democratic state committees later this month.

Both state committees will meet Sept. 15. Republicans will convene in Albany and Democrats in New York city.

The stocky, 71-year-old Lehman, who will run with both Democratic and Liberal party backing, got immediate pledges of support yesterday from leaders of both parties.

The race, the only major campaign of national scope this fall, will be watched closely as a signpost to possible trends in the 1950 congressional elections throughout the nation.

Lehman, always a strong vote-getter in New York state, served as its governor for 10 years — a record.

To enter politics, Lehman gave up a $2,000,000-a-year job as partner in the investment banking firm of Lehman Bros., founded by his father.

Mayor William O'Dwyer hailed Lehman's candidacy yesterday, along with State Democratic Chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick and several labor leaders, including David Dubinsky of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union (A.F.L.), and Louis Hollander, state C.I.O. Council president.

Lehman, in New York city, will be running on tickets which support opposing candidates for the mayoralty.

Mayor O'Dwyer will be the Democratic nominee, while Newbold Morris, a Republican and former city council president, has the backing of the Liberal party.

Lehman, queried about the paradoxical situation, said "I made it very clear to the Liberal party that I will support Mayor O'Dwyer and the Democratic candidates on the local ticket."

Transport Bill in Dollars
Prague (AP) — Business is business, even among the professed adherents of the strict Marxist-Leninist line. Czechoslovakia got further proof of this recently when the Russians handed them a bill — in dollars — for the transport of a Czechoslovak truck and field team to an invitational meet in Moscow. Upon their return some of the athletes said that, although they lost on points, they had profited in "a great lesson in socialism." A month later the Russians also gave them "a whacking stiff bill" for the ride — to Moscow and back — in Russian transport planes. The Russians asked dollars, no Czech crowns or Soviet rubles.

NEW PALTZ

Mr. and Mrs. George T. Wallman of Albany were the week-end visitors in this vicinity.

William DeWitt has purchased the home of Mrs. Victor Clearwater in Clintondale. Mrs. Clearwater plans on making her home in Westchester county.

Boost in Minimum Wage Is Assured

Washington, Sept. 1 (AP) — An increase in the minimum wage from 40 to 75 cents an hour was virtually assured today. All that remains now is for the Senate and House to compromise other points in the bills each passed to revise the 1938 wage-hour law.

The principal issue to be settled concerns employees covered by the law. The House bill would remove about 1,000,000 workers from coverage. The Senate provided exemptions for an estimated 250,000 or so, mainly in retail stores.

With the Senate taking a week's rest and the House on vacation until Sept. 21, efforts to iron out the differences will be delayed.

But when the Senate late yesterday passed by voice vote a bill lifting the wage floor to 75 cents, the administration chalked up a major victory for a part of President Truman's program.

The measure wasn't just what Democratic leaders wanted. They would have preferred a bill broadening the coverage of the wage-hour law. But they gave up hopes of that in a drive to win the 75-cent minimum.

Some 22,600,000 workers are covered by the law, but Senator Pepper (D-Fla.), floor manager for the bill, said that only about 1,500,000 of them now are being paid less than 75 cents an hour.

He figured the higher minimum would cost employers $365,000,000 annually in wage payments.

Making Attempt

Compromise Farm Plan Pushed by Both Parties

Washington, Sept. 1 (AP) — Senators of both parties plugged today for passage of a compromise farm program, apparently with President Truman's backing.

The measure, written by Senator Anderson (D-N. M.), was sent to the Senate for action yesterday soon after Democratic farm leaders returned from a visit to the White House.

Mr. Truman was asked at a news conference today just what he told the farm conferees yesterday that got such fast action from the Senate Agriculture Committee.

He said it wasn't anything he told them — that when they sat down together to talk things over they found they were not as far apart as they thought they were.

He said that is usually the case.

Next time you make homemade yeast rolls sprinkle them with poppyseed just before baking.
